Archbishop Gercke's dream of a central high school became a reality on September 11, 1950 when Salpointe, with a student enrollment of 177 freshmen and sophomores, opened its doors. Beginning with a faculty of eleven, the school is now staffed by forty-six teachers, priests, brothers, sisters and lay. Student enrollment numbers one thousand one hundred fifty.

THIS IS THE SPACE AGE. Man, in his search for knowledge, has left the boundaries of our earth. He now looks out to the other planets to broaden his horizons. Astronauts have orbited our earth. Scientists contemplate the mysteries of outer space. We at Salpointe ponder with them. We question and probe.

Our queries begin to be answered when Tirips, a whimsical little emissary from the planet X63, arrived at our school. He too was searching for that which makes the good life.

"What is all this?" he asked with a wave of his green appendage toward the school. "What's this 'Salpointe'?" "What are Salpointers?"

Since we at Salpointe know what constitutes the good life, we answer, "Come, Tirips, through our 1963 Horizons. Here you will find the answers."

I kinda have a hard time slope some of this stuff in next year. This summer easy. Bob Mahoney

Zealous Religious Leaders Inspire Students

Bishop Green has a weighty assignment, for he has complete supervision over the Diocese of Tucson, consisting of 300,000 Catholics in an area of 52,369 square miles. Bishop Francis J. Green succeeded Bishop Gercke two years ago.

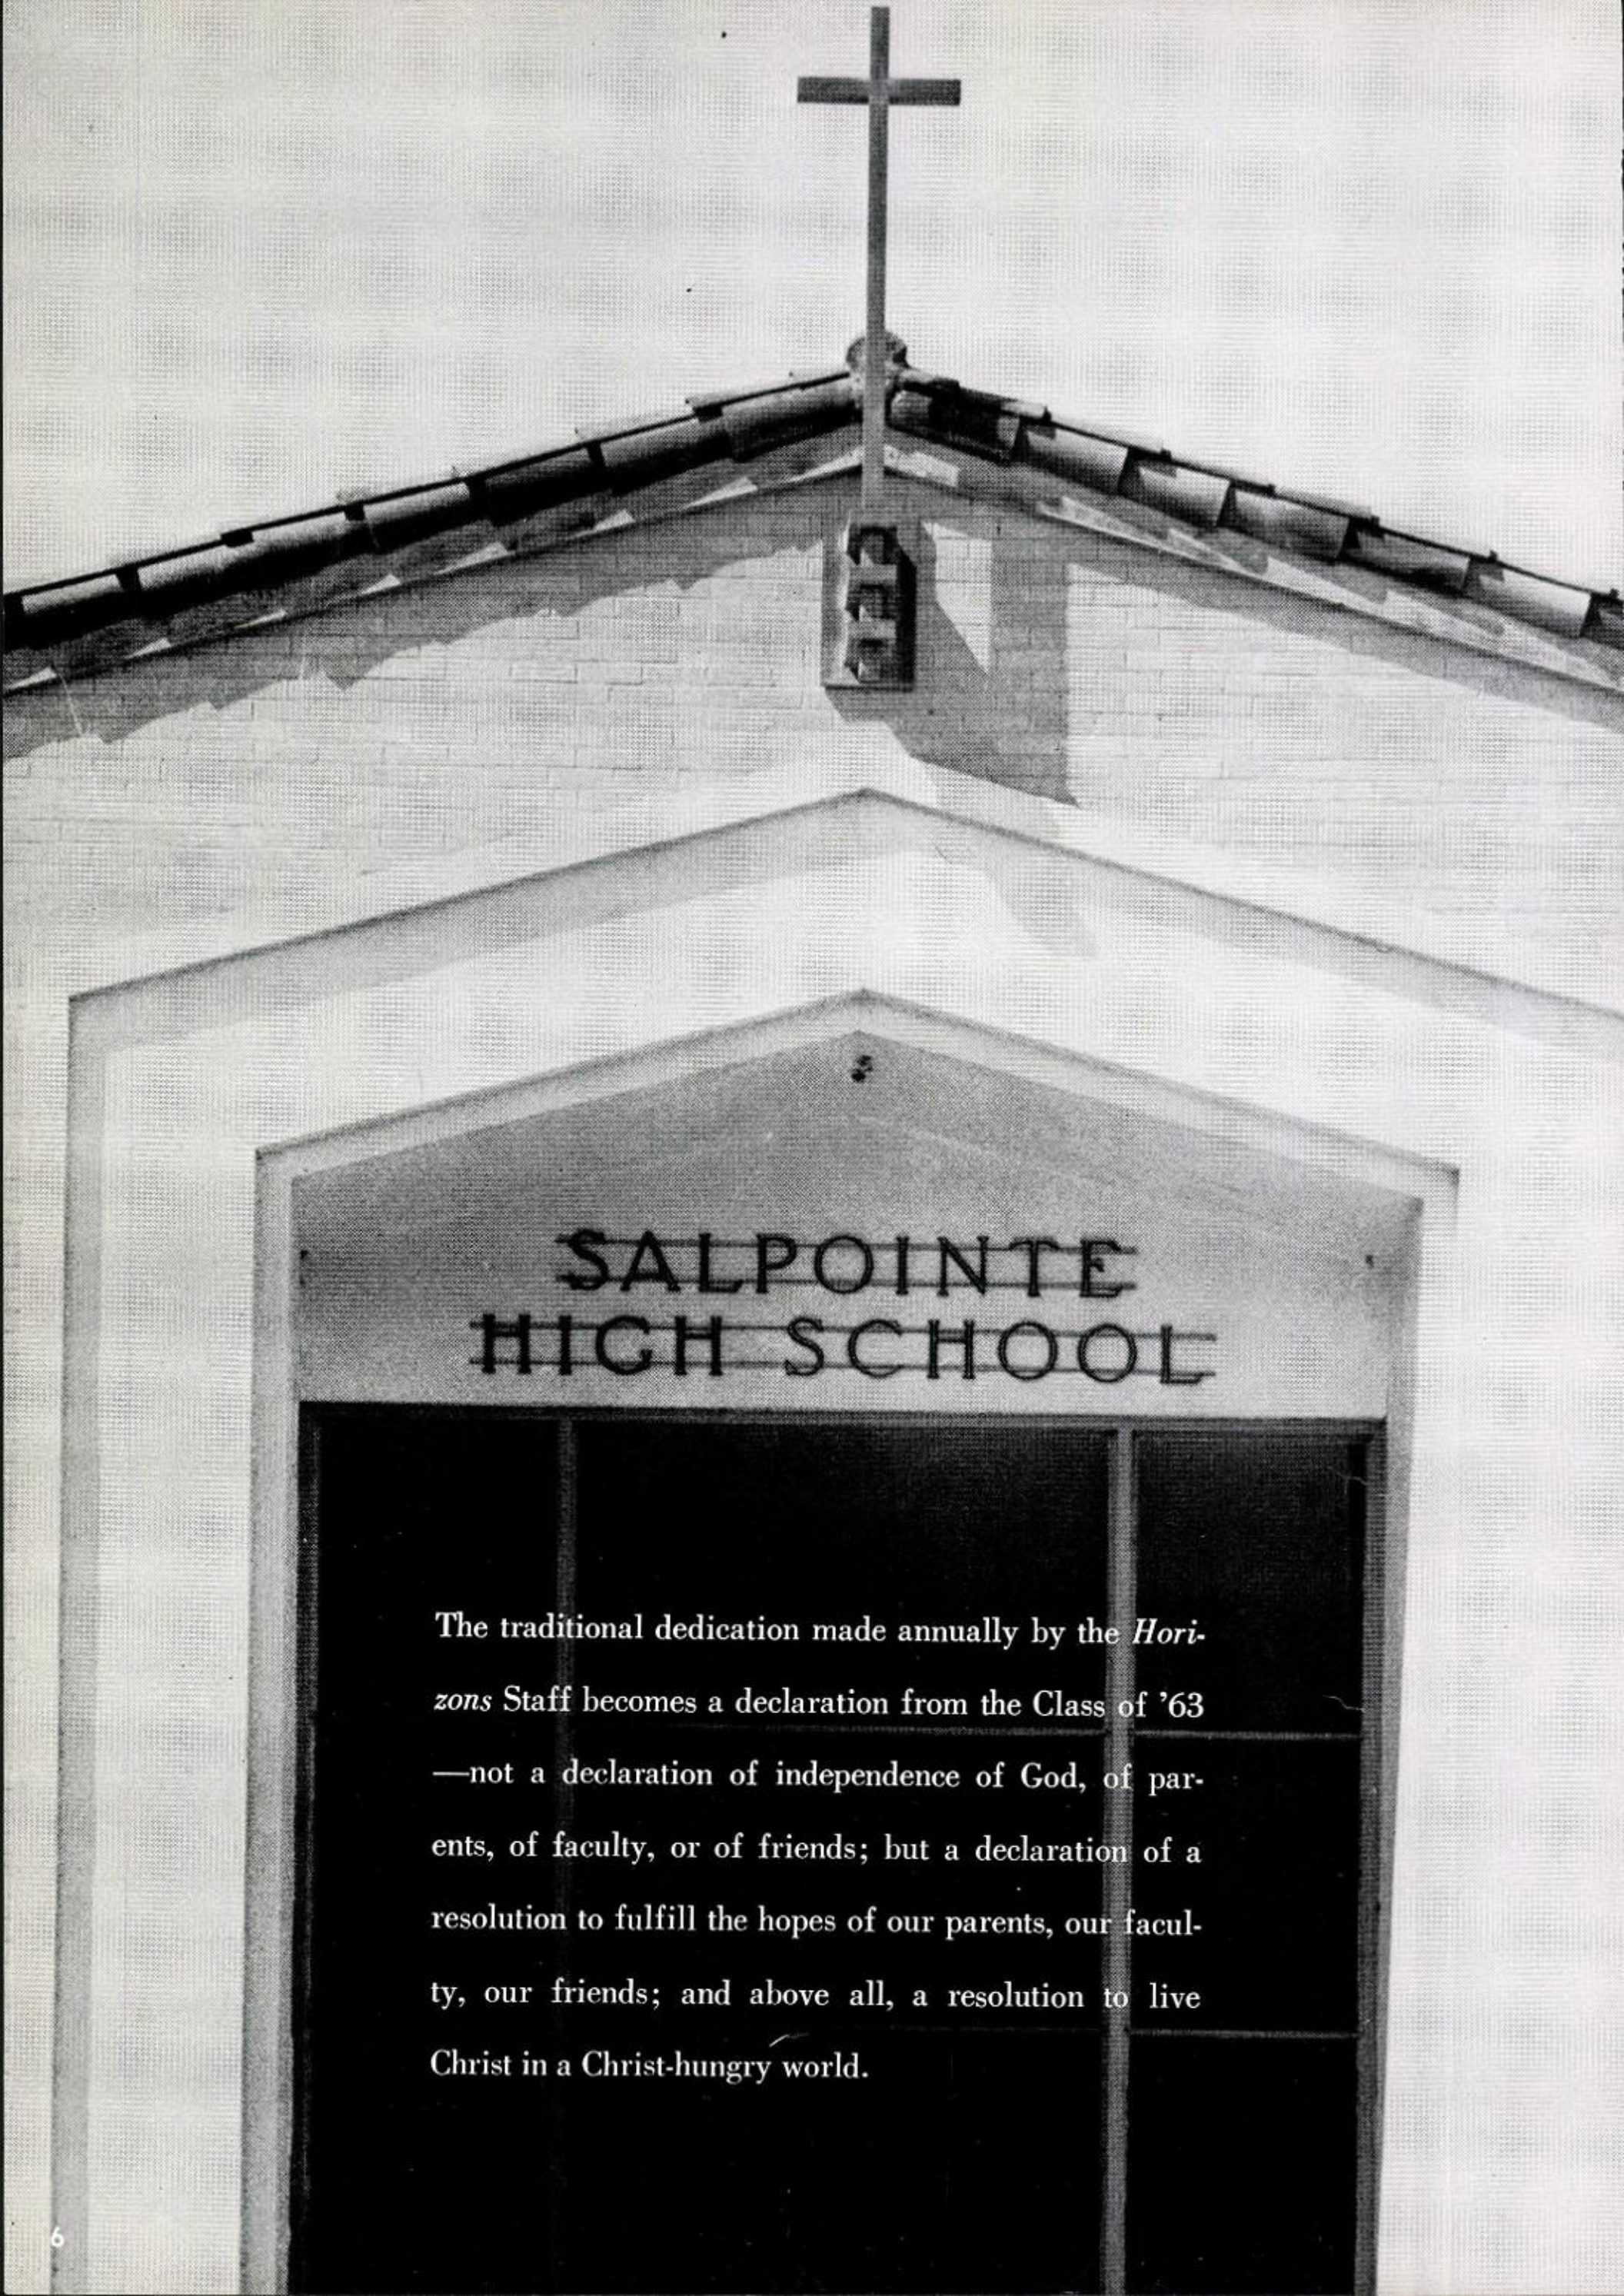

After serving the Tucson diocese for nearly forty years, Archbishop Daniel Gercke retired from active duty two years ago. He received the title of archbishop from Pope John XXIII in 1960.

The Very Reverend Brendan Gilmore, as Prior provincial of the Carmelite order, continues to govern the Chicago province since his election in 1960.

Father Bonaventure Gilmore is our principal, our counselor, and always, a priest. By his interest in our activities, his counsel in spiritual matters, and by his promotion of our citizenship as Americans, we develop into good Catholic American citizens working to the best of our abilities for a better world. Father has served as principal of Salpointe High School for ten years. During his first decade here, he has endeared himself by his devotion to Salpointe and by his encouragement of the students. We attribute the good which comes from the students of Salpointe to his guidance and understanding. We are proud to call Father Bonaventure our principal, and, as we leave, we ask his blessing.

A black and white photograph of the entrance to Salpointe High School. The building features a series of nested triangular pediments. The topmost pediment is the largest and contains a large cross on its roof. Below it is a smaller pediment, and then a third, even smaller one. The entrance is framed by a large, dark, multi-paned door. The text "SALPOINTE HIGH SCHOOL" is inscribed in a serif font across the middle of the entrance pediment.

SALPOINTE HIGH SCHOOL

The traditional dedication made annually by the Horizons Staff becomes a declaration from the Class of '63—not a declaration of independence of God, of parents, of faculty, or of friends; but a declaration of a resolution to fulfill the hopes of our parents, our faculty, our friends; and above all, a resolution to live Christ in a Christ-hungry world.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

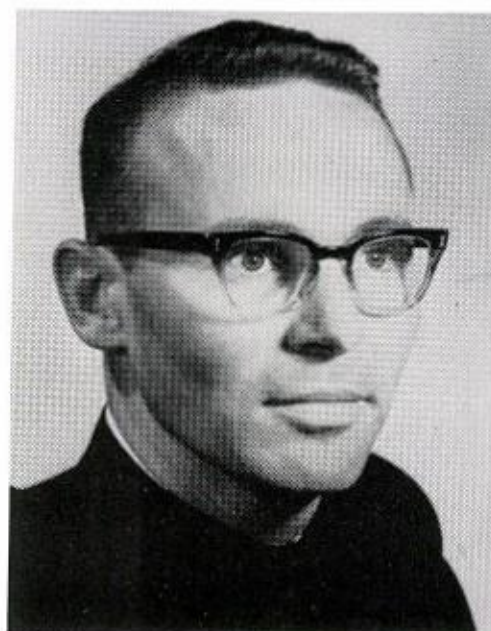

To become dynamic persons with Christian ideals and principles, students need teachers and counselors who will guide them with insight and purpose. Here at Salpointe three orders of Sisters with the Carmelite Priests and Brothers devote much time and attention to every student.

Carmelite Priests And Brothers Give Spiritual Guidance

About nine centuries before Christ, Elias the Prophet and other holy men sought refuge from the world in the peacefulness of Mt. Carmel in Palestine. At Carmel they served God as best they could. They started a tradition which continues today in the Carmelite congregation.

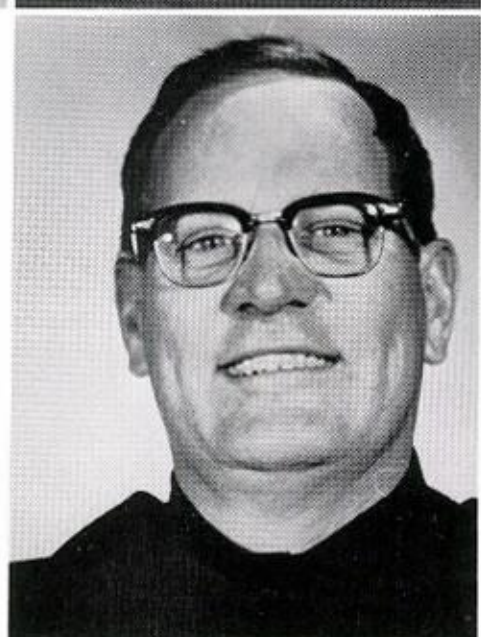

Prayer, zeal, and devotion to Mary are the virtues of the Carmelite, exemplified by the priests and brothers at Salpointe.

Salpointe Cafeteria And Office Employees

A new look in the main office helps our personnel to keep in stride with the growing population. From sorting the faculty mail to keeping the student records, the office staff efficiently fulfills its duties.

Increased enrollment also poses a problem for the cafeteria staff. Regardless of this, the ladies in the cafeteria provide a variety of lunchtime selections.

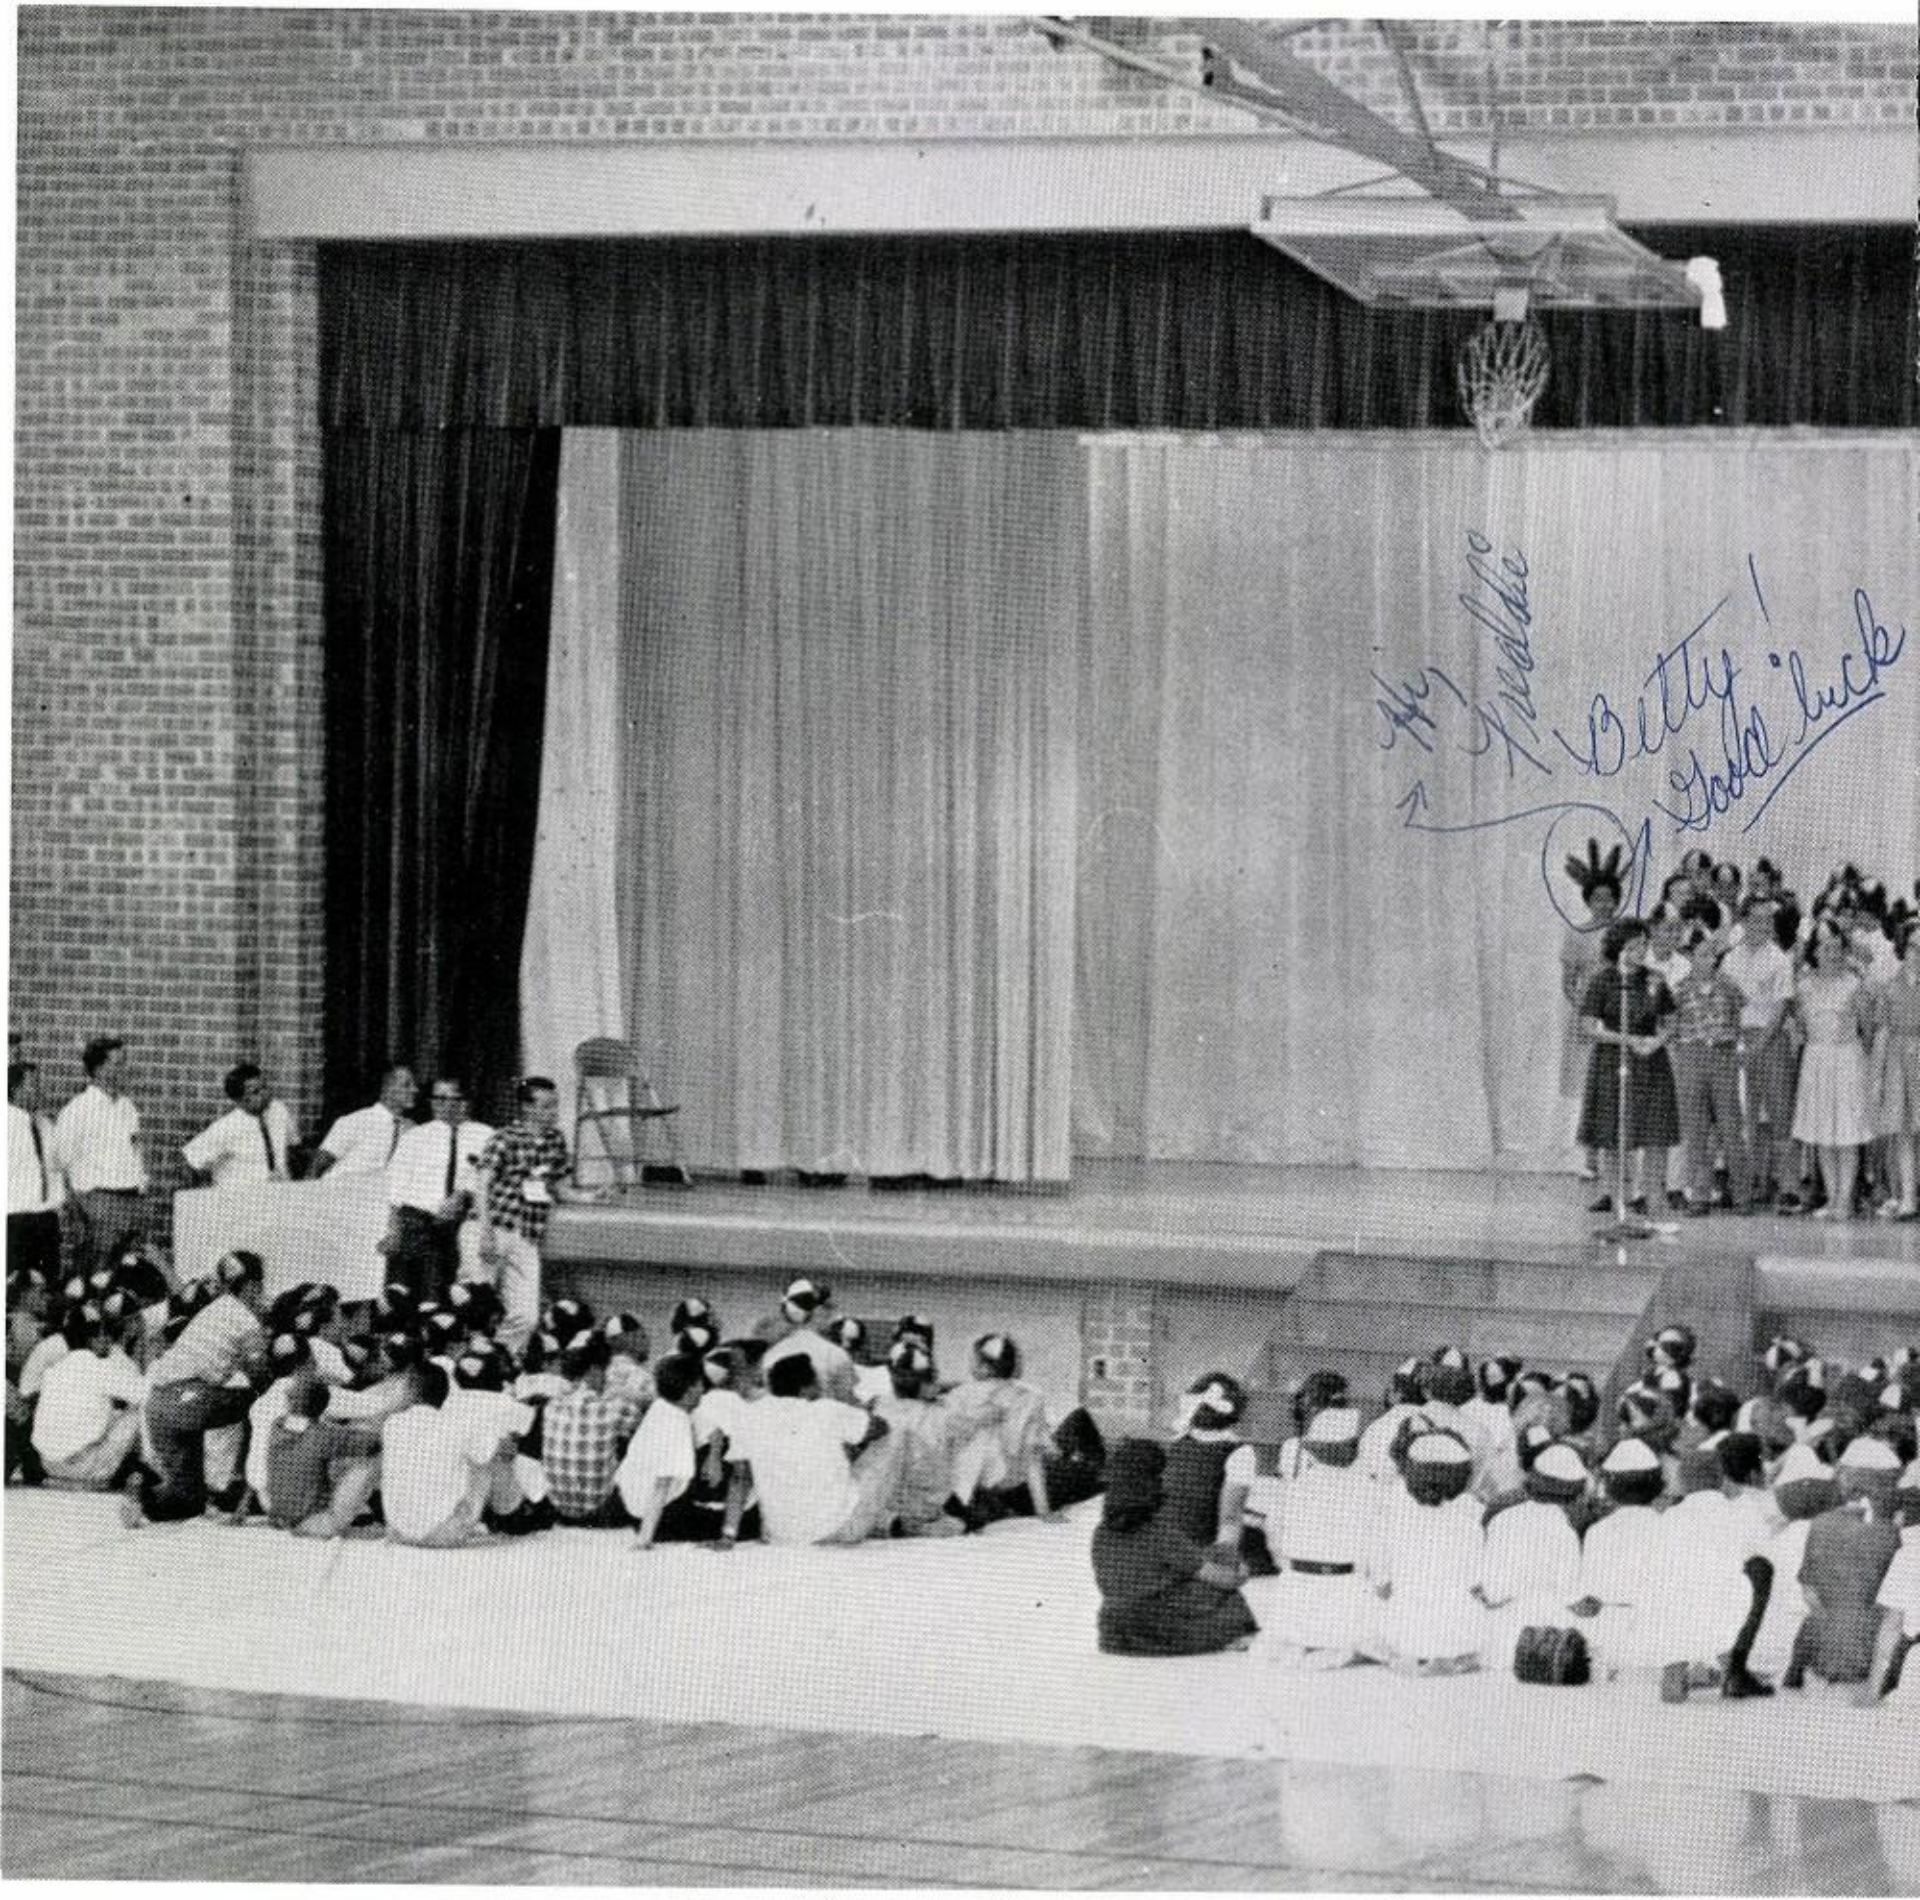

Demonstrate Efficiency In Their Work

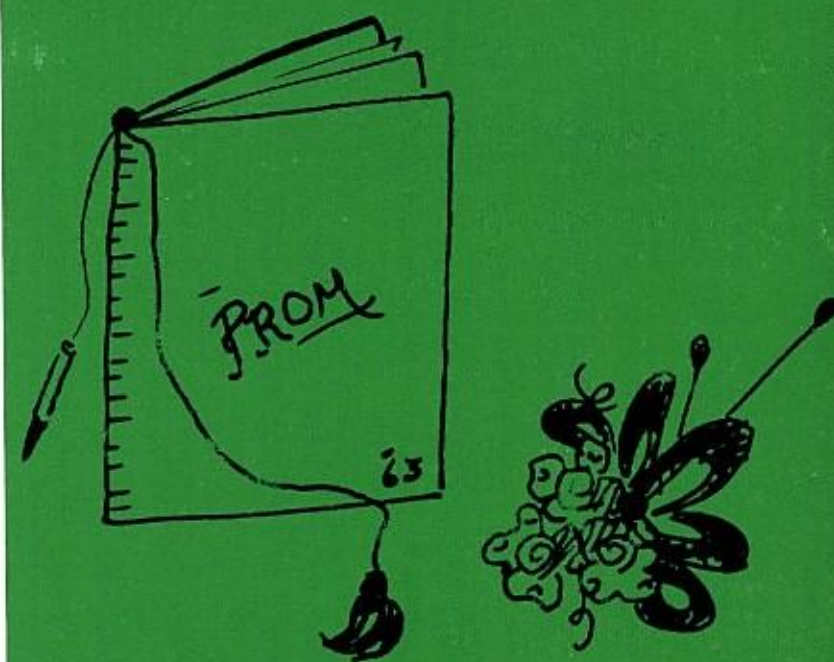

Keeping Salpointe beautiful is the chief goal of the maintenance staff. Whether it be mowing the lawn, sweeping the floors, or fixing a broken door, the maintenance men can be found attentive to their duties.

Many of our students would not be able to cross our doors daily if it weren't for our bus drivers. They are faithful to their daily routes; they greet many smiling faces each morning and bid a weary goodbye each afternoon.

ACTIVITIES

At the close of his first day at school, the little green man was exhausted. How Salpointers could rush around so during the day bewildered him. Happy that the hectic day was over, Tirips looked for a quiet place to rest. But where? Students rushed zestfully to and fro.

"What are these earthlings doing?"

"Come with us through Horizons . . ."

Students Soar 'Over The

Sister Mary Dolorosa worked with the students in the book-keeping room to total the money turned in each day. Without her efforts, involving time and patience, the magazine drive would not have been such a success.

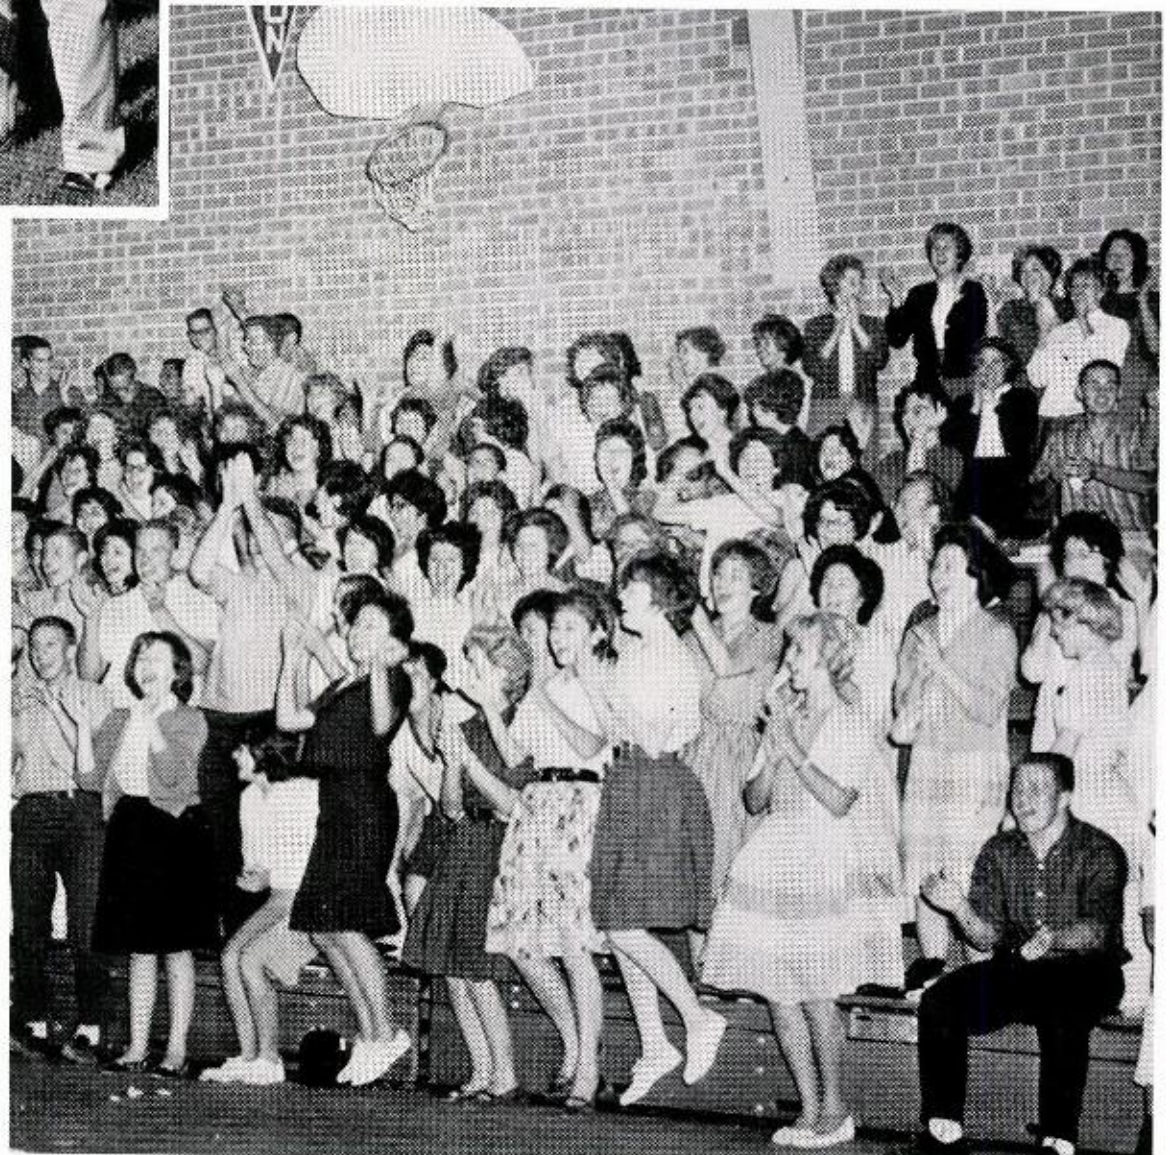

Carole Korakey, Garland Wells, Dorothy Johnston, and Jill Marentette work diligently at the adding machines, while Sister Dolorosa helps total the day's returns.

Amid shouts and cheers, Ed Felix, Frank Caristi, Bob Steffen, and Jerry Flynn, move "Bug Rogers" farther on his way to victory.

Spirited forward by "Bug Rogers," the senior class pushed past the finish line to high honors. Despite the small number of students in their class, they carried on the long standing tradition of "senior winners." As the senior spider paraded through the gym, cheers and applause echoed through the building.

"The winning class is . . .," announces a loud voice from on stage, but the confident seniors drown out his words, as they display their well-known spirit.

Top' Again In Magazine Drive

Nicha Jacome, Phyllis King, Cherry Tang, Bojana Poje, Michael Stilb, Marjorie Ambrogi, and Melsa Manning were among the top ten salesmen for the drive.

“Insecti-sell” proved to be Salpointe’s largest and most successful magazine drive. The purpose of the annual drive is to help pay the School’s expenses. Representing each class, the bugs were: “Bugs Money,” freshmen; Centipede (“Willie-Make-It”), sophomores; “Maynard Moth,” juniors; and “Bug Rogers,” seniors. Each student who brought in his quota of $20 was eligible for various prizes, and with an additional $10, became the happy recipient of a Salpointe Lancer “Woggle Doll.”

Class	Quota	Am't Reached
Frosh	$6360.	$7777.
Soph	5640.	7564.
Juniors	5340.	5932.
Seniors	4100.	6728.
School	22,000.	28,700.

Displaying their prizes, the high salesmen for the senior class were: Deanna Dauphinais, Margie Ambrogi, Cherry Tang, Maxine Snider, Maria Urias, Nancy Darling, and Margie Baumgartner.

Proudly displaying their “We are tops” banner, are members of the high homeroom, 12-D: Eileen Whalen, Deanna Dauphinais, Sister Kathleen Francis, Janet Zito, Jim Rudolph, Tom Hippert, Cherry Tang, Eleanor Lent, and Diane Olinski.

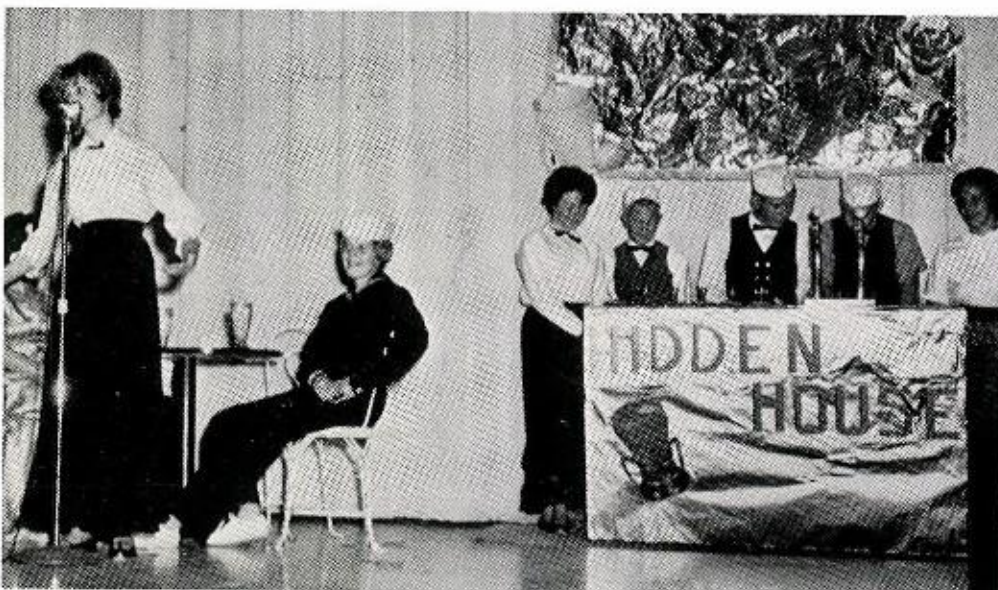

High salesman for the drive was senior, Cherry Tang, who brought in $695. The high homeroom of each class was given cash and prizes to distribute among the students. For bringing in the largest amount on the last day of the drive, the senior class received $100 for a class party.

Talent Show Portrays Gay '90 Scenes

"The Gay Nineties" were brought to life again as the Glee Club presented its annual talent show at "Ye Old Sweet Shoppe." In order to pay the proprietor, Luis Gastellum, for their refreshments, the customers were required to display their talent for the visiting entertainers. Their talents included singing, dancing, drama, and instrumentals; all in accordance with the theme. Highlights of the show were the authentic looking costumes and the soda fountain. The profits from the show were used to buy food for Salpointe's Thanksgiving baskets which were given to the Pio Decimo Center.

Judy Huser proudly displays "his" second place trophy for singing and dancing, as Marjorie Ambrogi (second place, instrumental), Mary Lynn Farley (first place, instrumental), Nancy Allen (first place, drama), and Janet Zito (first place, singing and dancing), admire the "handsome sailor."

"Dance? Why I'd be delighted!" says Nancy Allen, while she really thinks, "With HIM? Oh, no! There go my poor feet." Her drama skit was appropriately titled, "The Waltz."

Jackie Hermes, Peggy Dillon, Liz Clifford, and Barbara Hawley attempt to make the scenery for the Talent Show.

Queen Marilyn Reigns Over Homecoming Festivities

Bill Huser escorts Marilyn to the stage, as they await the queen's crowning.

Flames rise as an old tradition is brought to life again.

Students Surpass Their Own Record

King and Queen of Hearts, Mike Higdon and Rita Hershberger reign over their court: Bobby Avila, Beth Taggart, Sue Lynch, and Mike Urbanski. Missing are: Trudi Fazlollah and Bob Kimball.

"Mmmm, delicious!" says Bill Dunn, as he samples a bar of the "World's Finest Chocolate."

The chocolate drive was confined to one weekend this year. In this short time, Salpointers exhibited spirit in canvassing the entire town. The class of '65 triumphed again this year by selling over their quota. All classes, however, were responsible for the tremendous success of the drive.

Senior boys pause a moment to pose for the camera, as they energetically stack boxes and boxes of chocolate. No samples, boys!

Scenes Of Old West Recaptured During Rodeo Days

Judy McCoy and Beth Rutter lead the little Shetland pony, as the Lancer rides ahead.

Salpointe students help prepare the float for the entry in the annual Rodeo Parade.

Senior Play, "Seven Sisters"

"What happened?" asks Peg Dillon of Lupe Carrillo and Karen Bach as the oldfashioned flatiron falls apart. The girls are organizing properties for the play.

Proven Delightful Comedy

Tom Blake, John Bender, and Jaime Blake (Scenery Manager) carry part of the scenery for the play, "Seven Sisters," backstage.

Gay Hungarian costumes, bright scenery, and a fine display of talent are all memories of the senior play. Marrying off her daughters is Mama Gyurkovics' big problem but she doesn't seem to be having any luck. Mitzi, the fourth eldest daughter, arrives home unexpectedly and decides to do something about this situation. Horkoy, her secret admirer, promises to marry off the three older sisters in exchange for three kisses. Katinka is soon wed to Colonel Radviany. Shorry follows suit by becoming Mrs. Michael Sandorffy. And finally, Ella is married off to Gida, Radviany's nephew. Horkoy, his mission accomplished, not only gets the three kisses but also a bride—Mitzi.

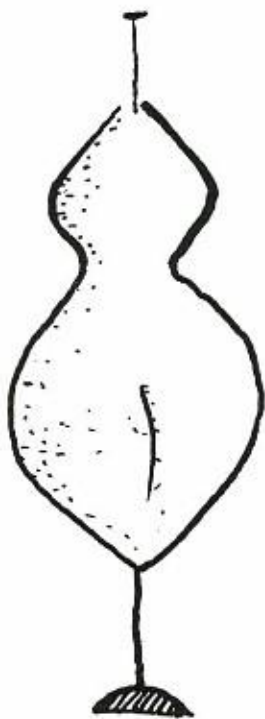

"Who do you think I am? A servant?" says Shorry (Lari Hesler), as she slaps Sandorffy's (Ed Felix) face.

"April In Paris" Sets Theme

As the United States has recently been visited by famous painters from France, Salpointe also got a glimpse of Paris-inspired fashions. "Dynamic Designs from Paris" was the theme of the Annual Home Ec Fashion Show. The lovely outfits, modeled by their creators, transported the audience to Paris in the Spring. All of the clothes in the show were made by the girls themselves in the various Homemaking classes. Long hours and hard work bore fruit for the Home Economics Department.

"Isn't it beautiful?" says Maria Urias, in her date dress of aqua faille. Karen Bach models her sheath and jacket of navy blue wool, as Maxine Snider poses in her suit and coat of gold suede cloth. All three styles show the influence of today's modern fashions.

Graciously aiding Sister Mary Hugh as narrator of the fashion show is Mrs. David Parlett.

For Annual Home Ec Fashion Show

"Am I seeing double?" says Eileen Whalen. No. It's only her "twin," Dana O'Sullivan. The girls look through the "mirror" in their western print cotton blouses.

Admiring the beautiful painting, Sue Ulliman and Stella Rodriguez model their smart suits. Sue's suit is of royal blue wool; Stella's tailored wool suit is shocking pink.

Just finishing a painting, Jackie Hermes models her blue skirt and vest, fashioned with dark blue trim.

Ready for a tour of Paris in her cute blue basic dress, Frani O'Rourke waits for that darling Frenchman.

"As pretty as a picture" in her white chiffon dress with its red velveteen accents, Lorrie Zenz admires the poster for "April In Paris," the theme of the show.

Participants in the first Model UN at the University of Arizona are: front: Mary Critchley, Kathy Oliver, Barbara Lynch; back: John Ikard, Tom VanSlyck, Henry Kaldenbaugh, Dave McAuliffe, Ray Schroff, and Jeffrey Nordensson.

Patriotism Glows On "American Day"

Our "I Am An American Day," held annually, instills a sense of patriotism and responsibility among the student body, as junior citizens. Representatives for each class were selected as finalists in the competition. They were judged on the quality of their themes. Topics ranged from "Paul Revere" to "The Berlin Wall." Each orator received a plaque for participation. Semi-finalists were presented with certificates, and the winners were awarded trophies.

Finalists for "I Am An American Day" were Mike Shinkel, Barbara Lynch, Huddy Richardson, Nancy Giguere, Debbie Devereux, Peggy Springer, Carol Kinsock, and Mary Pat Bartholomeaux.

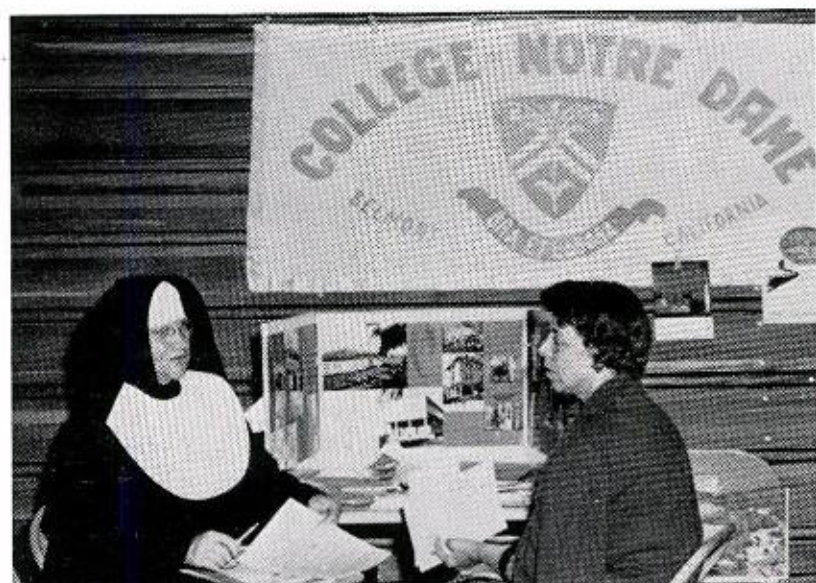

Mr. Edward Market, head of the Tucson High School Speech Department, and Father Bonaventure listen intently to the Honorable Lew Davis, Mayor of Tucson.

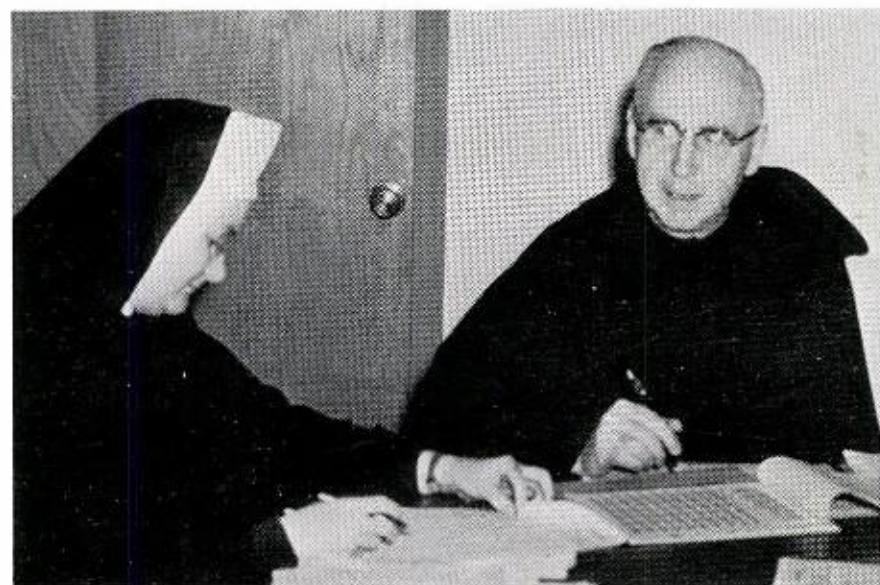

Career Day Opens New Ideas To Students

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ambrogi and their daughter, Marjorie, discuss Clark College and its educational opportunities with Miss Patricia Pederson.

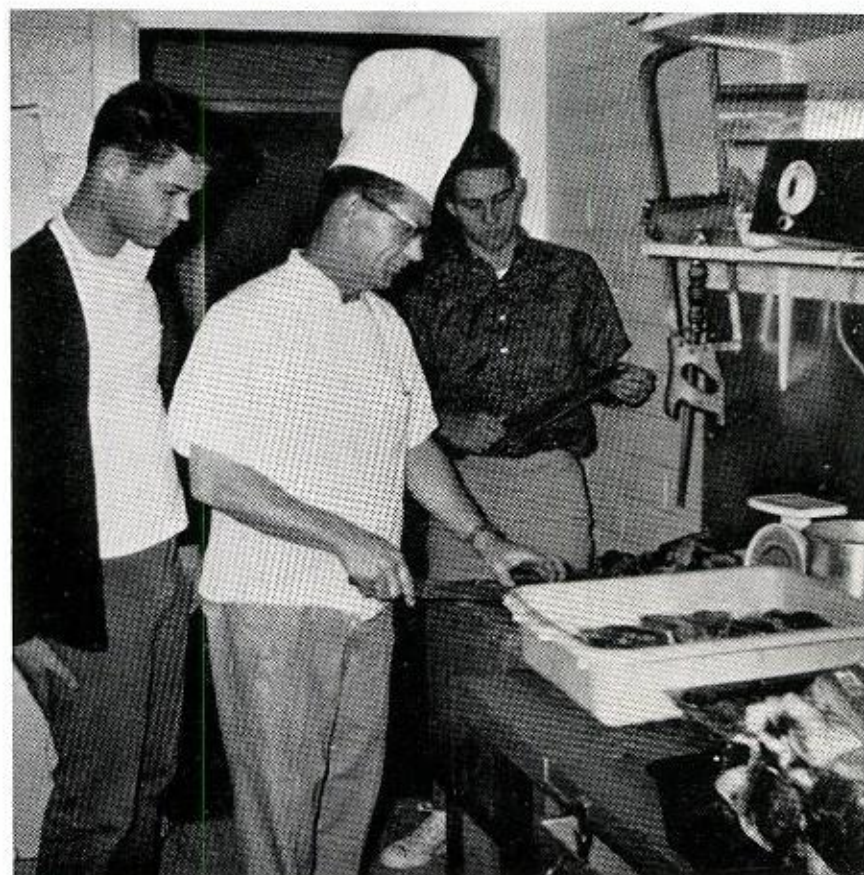

A Sister of Notre Dame discusses the California college with a Salpointe mother.

Salpointe is not negligent in preparing its students for their futures. Whether the student wishes to become a doctor, lawyer, engineer, chef, office-worker or religious makes no difference; he is adequately prepared for his field.

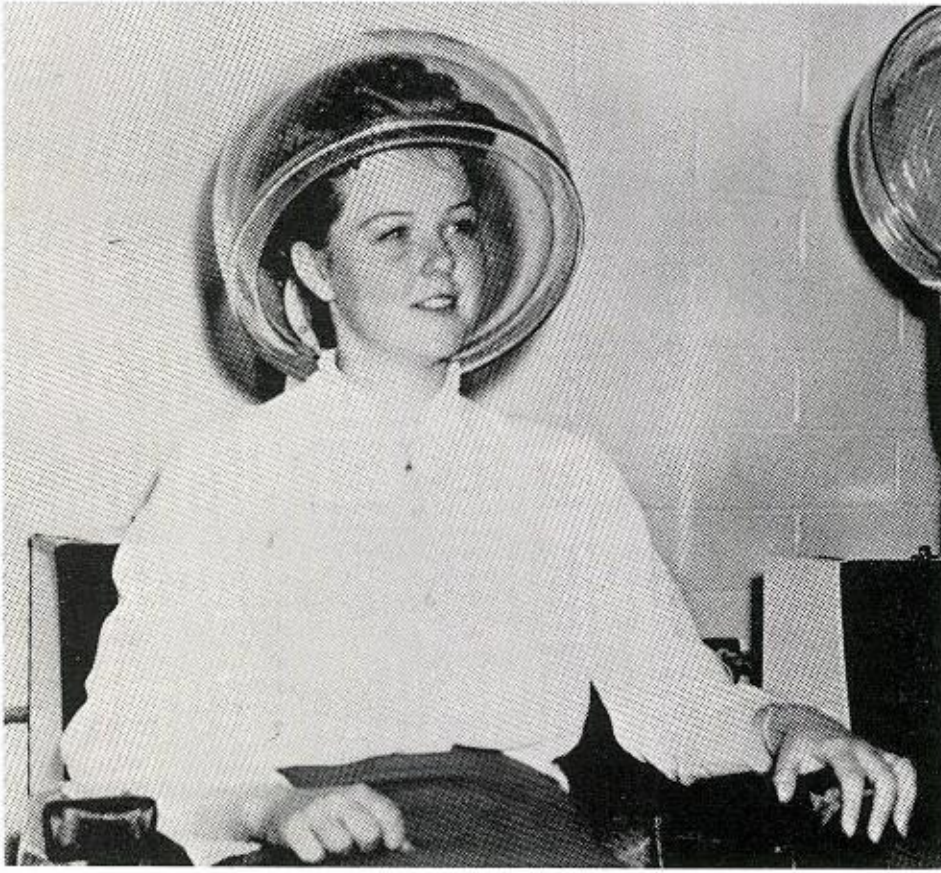

On the annual Career Day, representatives of various fields spoke to the upperclassmen to familiarize them with their occupational activities.

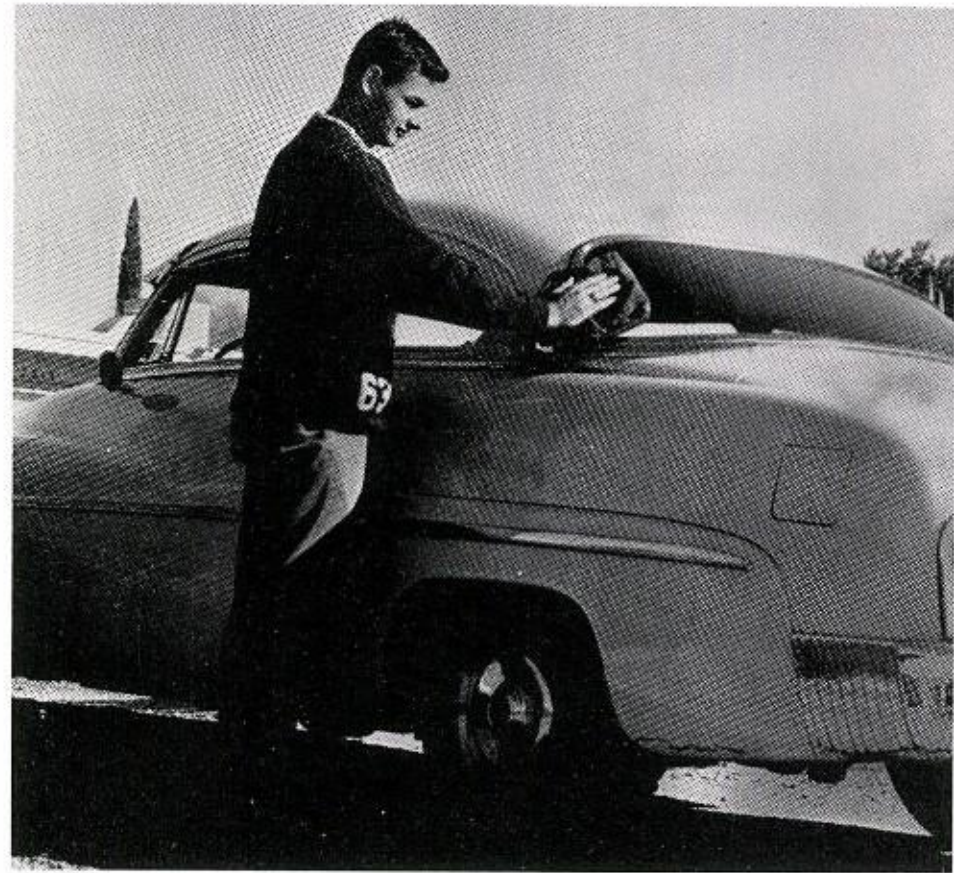

Chef Bob Jacob shows Miles Nuzum and Ricky Ensign the art of cooking.

Sister Mary Richard Therese and Father Bonaventure, religious teacher and religious priest respectively, represent the religious life as a profession to be considered by every student.

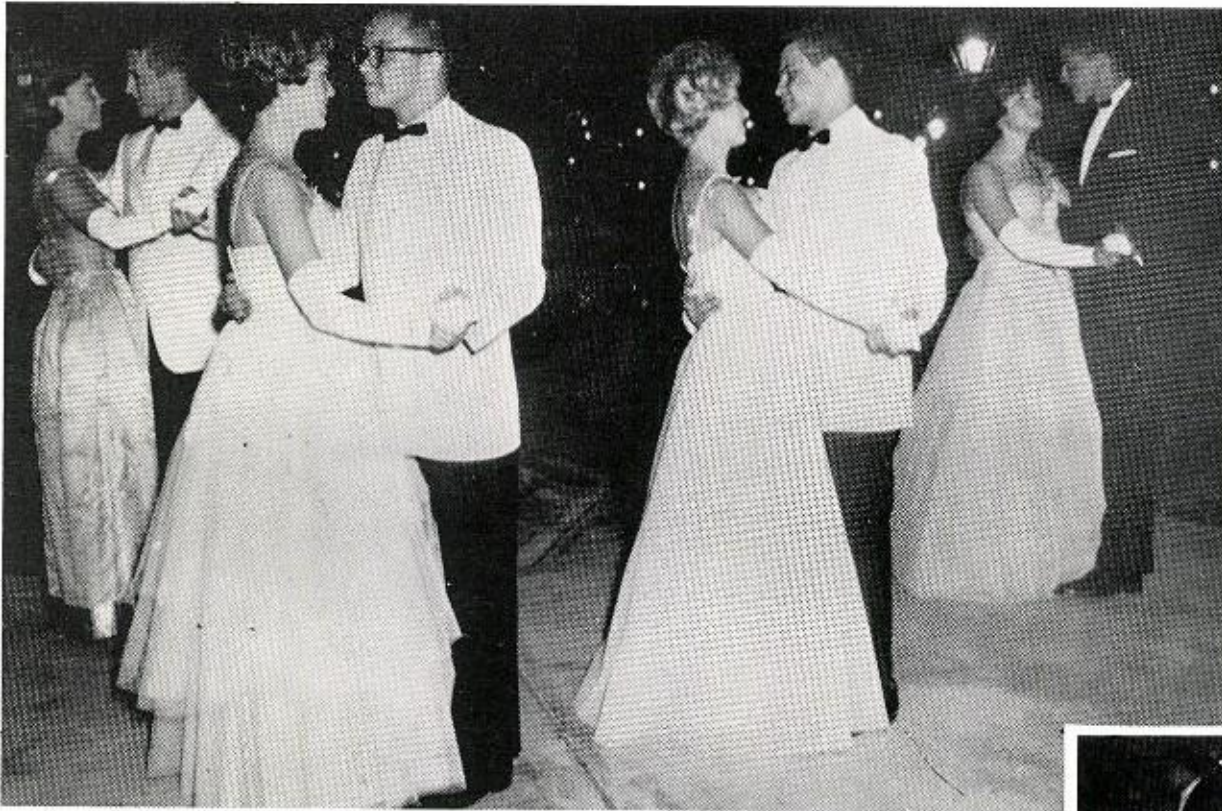

Formals, Tux, Soft Lights And

"I wonder if he'll like my hair?" thinks Lynne Ogden, as she happily anticipates the excitement of the prom.

"Gosh, I've only got two hours to get ready," sighs Pete Hanapel, as he hurries to polish his "golden coach."

Dana O'Sullivan, Jim Rudolph, Marilyn Thompson, Gary Wilhelmy, Eleanor Lent, Wayne Hufnagel, Lari Hesler, and Larry Leber dance in the moonlight.

May 17 is a night that many students will never forget. It was a night lived in a charming setting, with tuxedos and colorful formals, and many happy faces. The Pioneer Hotel provided the romantic atmosphere for the gala affair. For the Seniors, it was their last prom, to be cherished as a golden memory forever.

Tom Hippert, Kay Wild, Janet Zito, and Ed Castellum take a moment to enjoy the magic of the night as they relax by the fountain.

Music Picture Prom Night

Lynn Ogden, Pete Hannapel, Lari Hesler, and Larry Leber throw coins into the fountain; as Miles Nuzum, Karen Johnson, Jim Rudolph, Dana O'Sullivan, Lupe Carillo, and her escort, Lee Molina, wish for the night to last forever.

"It's cold!" says Kay Wild to Tom Hippert, as Miles Nuzum "gallantly" comes to the aid of Karen Johnson.

A perfect evening ends . . . but wonderful memories remain in their hearts, as this happy couple "say" goodnight.

Seniors Look Back On Day

Mr. Corcoran, principal of Safford Junior High School, receives a check for the Milk Fund Drive from Gloria Gorosave and Lupe Carrillo.

Jim Marum proudly carries the "We Are Tops" banner as the seniors are declared winners of the magazine drive.

Peggy Dillon and Pat O'Leary discuss their morning classes, as Sylvia Romo, Angie Valencia, and Gloria Garcia enjoy their coffee break.

Wayne Hufnagel, Eleanor Lent, Margie Baumgartner, and Pat O'Leary enter the "magic door" for a night of fantasy and delight.

of Drives, Activities, And Fun

Eileen Whalen, Andy Romo, Felipe Galaz, Sara Lopez, Diane Olinski, Karen Bach, and Margie Ambrogi help Jerry Flynn, Bob Fischer, and Tom Hippert load chocolate into Andy's jalopy, as they eagerly wait "to get out and sell" the World's Finest Chocolate.

The hall suddenly becomes dark and empty . . . Seniors bid a last farewell to their alma mater, and move forward to broaden their "Horizons." The year's activities and accomplishments become fond memories for the future. The future! What looms ahead? Whatever it is, it must be faced with confidence.

Shades of the Wild West are relived in the Old Pueblo each year as the Fiesta De Los Vaqueros rolls around. Donning western duds, tourists and Tucsonians alike flocked downtown to view the Parade, the official opening of the Rodeo. Greeted with plenty of sunshine and clear skies for the first time in ten years, entries colorfully paraded past the crowds. This year, as in previous years, Salpointe's Marching Unit, led by two mounted Lancers, preceded the Royal Float. From a decorated, horse-drawn wagon, Queen Angie, and Princesses Margie, Rosalie, Frances, and Kathy waved happily to the spectators.

What could be more Western than a rodeo? And where do you expect to find Westerners? Queen Angie and her court believe nothing could be more Western than a rodeo, and the most "Western" setting is a ranch. To Pete Martinez's ranch they went. Angie held "Pretty Girl," while Rosalie Oberg, Kathy Sutherland, Margie Baumgartner, and Frances Pesqueira straddled the corral fence like true Westerners.

CLUBS

Clubs are an integral part of a high school student's life. By participating in organizations and their respective activities, a student learns to adjust to various personalities. He accepts responsibility and voices his ideas.

Activities Mark Well-Rounded Students

The Key Club is an honorary service organization which recognizes students who are particularly active in school functions. Points are awarded at semesters by club moderators and homeroom teachers on the basis of academic achievement and services rendered to the school.

Senior key holders are: Larry Leber, Liz Jaskoski, Gloria Gorosave, and Barbara Lynch.

Taking nominations for the "Club of the Month" are Ed Gastelum and Peggy Dillon.

In order to co-ordinate the activities of clubs throughout the school, the Inter-Club Council gives each club the opportunity to discuss its plans and activities at the monthly meetings. It is under the direction of Luis Gastelum.

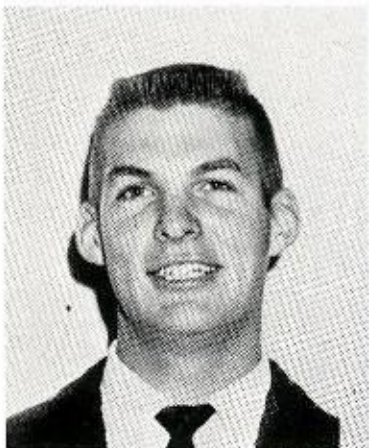

Arranging awards for the honors assembly are: Sister Maria Magdalene, Pat O'Leary, and Larry Leber.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is an organization of student elected officers who pledge themselves to further the betterment of the school by a closer bond of unity between faculty and students.

SALPOINTE HIGH SCHOOL CONSTITUTION (revised)

Preamble

We, the students and faculty of Salpointe High School, in order to promote student activities, foster school spirit, practice daily the ideals of democracy, and to promote the general welfare of Salpointe High School through the cooperation of students and faculty for the honor and glory of Almighty God, do ordain and establish this constitution of the Student Body of Salpointe High School.

ARTICLE I

The name of this organization shall be the Associated Student Body of Salpointe High School.

ARTICLE II

All powers are delegated by the principal who has the veto power.

ARTICLE III

Membership

Membership shall consist of any enrolled student who shall be entitled to the privileges of the student body.

Article IV

Legislative Organizations

Section I

All legislative powers delegated by the principal shall be vested in a Student Council.

Section II

Student Council membership shall consist of the student body president, vice-president, corresponding and recording secretaries and a treasurer, who shall act as officers of the said council, all class presidents, class delegates, the Inter-Club Council President, and a House of Representatives.

The House of Representatives shall consist of one representative from each homeroom. Each shall be present at all Student Council meetings, take part in the discussions and shall have a vote.

Section III

The Inter-Club Council shall consist of the presidents of all chartered clubs. The Inter-Club Council President shall act as head of said organization. He shall have a vote in the Student Council.

Section IV

A faculty advisor, appointed by the principal, and having no vote shall act as council moderator.

Student Body To Faculty

Class presidents and delegates to the Student Council are: Left to right, Eddie Felix, Frank Blazek, Taft Jacob, Allen Hennessy, Gloria Gorosave, Margot Brown, Elizabeth Wild, and Barbara Wild.

Students of the Month for the first semester are Joe Lawless, Peggy Springer, and John Hunnicutt.

The Student Council is the link between students and faculty. And the class leaders are the spokesmen for the individual members. Each class has a president and delegate who have a voice in school government, particularly representing their own class. These elected leaders direct and inspire the goals and spirit of the class.

Any Salpointer maintaining a 3.0 average and who is especially active in scholastic, spiritual, or extracurricular activities during one specified month is eligible for Student of the Month. The student is nominated from his class by his classmates. The candidates' names are then given to a special committee presided over by the Dean of Boys and the Dean of Girls which votes for the Student of the Month.

"For whom shall I vote?" queries a freshman girl during elections.

NHS Demands Scholarship, Leadership, And Extracurricular Activities

Dr. Timothy Brown, father of Margot Brown, junior, was the keynote speaker for N.H.S. installation.

National Honor Society stresses scholarship, leadership and character. Preference is shown to those students possessing these qualities. Membership is decided by the faculty.

Candle Light Ceremony Initiates New Q And S Members

Members

Of the journalism students only the upperclassmen who are in the top third of their class are chosen for membership in the Quill and Scroll. As a national honorary society for high school journalists, the Quill and Scroll fosters literary excellence.

Compiling debate material are: Nancy Giguere, Peggy Springer, Sister Marie Joan, Terry Bahill, Jerry Jordan, and John Ikard.

N.F.L. trophy winners are: Mike Kelly, Marilyn Saucer, Lynn Ogden, Barbara Lynch, Phyllis Chiasson, and Margot Brown.

To provide an opportunity for Salpointe students to take part in interscholastic interpretation and debate, the N.F.L. was formed at Salpointe in 1958. Moderator of the club is Sister Marie Joan.

Students Donate Pennies For "Mighty Mite"

Bake sale proves successful to hungry juniors and profitable for mission collections.

Salpointe is mission-minded because of the vigorous Mission Club directed by Fr. Neal. The club's main activities include monetary, stamp, and clothing collections. The proceeds of these collections are distributed to the needy throughout the world.

Students in religion class cheerfully make donations for the Missions during the Monday morning collection.

Officers of the re-organized Pep Club are: Steve Bahre, Judy Huser, Maxine Snyder, and Bill Huser.

The Pep Club at S.H.S. is an active organization. This newly reorganized club has for its purpose the spearheading of spirit here at Salpointe. Fr. Fidelis is the club's moderator.

Knights And Sacristans Serve God Through Chapel Work

Salpointe boys have many opportunities for spiritual advancement. One of the most valuable is the opportunity to serve daily Mass.

During First Friday Mass, Tim McNiff assists Father Roy in distributing Holy Communion.

Margie Baumgartner and Margie Ambrogi prepare the altar for daily Mass as part of their sacristans duty.

Generously and faithfully Jane Every, Anne Richardson, Margie Ambrogi, and Diane Olinski sing daily Mass in the Chapel.

The sacristans are responsible for the care of the Chapel, care of the priest's vestments, and for the preparation of the altar for Mass. They also are responsible for the smooth-running of retreats and other spiritual activities.

Clubs Further Class Participation

Sister Mary St. Jude and Spanish Club officers display articles received from the students of Ecuador with whom they correspond through living records.

Sister Joan of Arc helps future scientists to explore extensively fields of science which interest them.

To further their knowledge of science, members of the Science Club perform various experiments during their meetings.

Music is more enjoyable and better understood through the efforts of Salpointe's Glee Club. The combined class-club practices each morning preparing for its various programs. Among these are the Glee Club's Christmas program and traditional caroling. As our book goes to press preparations are being made for a spring concert. These activities add "tone" to the Salpointe school year.

The Salpointe Glee Club, led by Ed Gastellum, gave many outstanding performances throughout the year.

Busy "Singing" Year Is Behind Glee Club

Judy Huser gives an outstanding performance for the Glee Club Talent Show.

Glee Club officers: Ed Gastelum, Peggy Dillon, Dennis Monroe, and Peggy Springer consult Sister Charles Leonard concerning music for the spring concert.

Marching, Pep, And Concert

Rodeo day offers the marching band a chance to sport a Western look.

The Pep Band sparks the spirit at all basketball games.

During the course of the year Salpointe's bands function in the capacity of entertainers for concerts and honor assemblies and instilling spirit at games and pep assemblies.

Marching unit participates in Rodeo parade.

Bands Supply Year-Round Entertainment

Father Urban joins the Midnighters in one of their weekly practices.

Terry Bahill tries a new note to add variety to their practice.

Since 1959 Salpointe's Midnighters have played for important dances and school functions. As each member graduates, a new one is chosen to take his place. The Midnighters were organized to perfect the musicians of the band and is comprised of only the best musicians at Salpointe.

Varsity Pep Squad Furthers Enthusiasm At Games

Eleanor Lent, Diane Kweiser, Frances Kobida, Marilyn Thompson, Diane Delinger, Kay Wild, and Karen Johnson exemplify true Salpointe spirit at all varsity functions.

Varsity 1962-63 cheerleaders take on a new "twist." Their number has increased and their technique has changed. At our opening Pep Assembly in September the girls introduced their version of the twist with eeny-meeny-miny-moe. Spirit (Tirips) glowed in the student body from the spark of these cheerleaders.

Smooth cheerleading requires constant practice.

Cheerleaders take time out to model their new football uniforms.

Andy Romo, Tom Hippert, and Pete Hannapel mocked varsity cheerleaders in the opening basketball assembly.

Cheerleaders Lead Frosh And JV Teams To Victory

Virginia Lent—
Head JV Cheerleader

A surprising number of fans came out this year to help the JV cheerleaders cheer their team to victory. JV cheerleaders showed enthusiasm and pep while infecting the spirit of the crowd.

A hundred anxious and eager freshmen girls turned out for freshmen cheerleader tryouts. Seven patient varsity cheerleaders attempted to teach the coordination and technique necessary for a peppy Salpointe cheerleader. The girls chosen have improved much since the day of tryouts, promoting the spirit of the Class of '66.

Junior Varsity pep supporters for this year are Elizabeth Wild, Rita Hershberger, Virginia Lent, Cheryl Ryerse, Barbara Lent, Debbie Roberts, and Pat Steffen.

Supporting the class of '66 in all activities are Suzi Lynch, Terry Lancaster, Patty Johnson (kneeling), Kathy Allen, Rosalind Huser, Barbara Wild, and Carol White (standing).

Songleaders And Lancerettes Add Color To Half-Time Performances

Janie Flynn,
Head Songleader

Sporting their best smiles are this year's spirit rousers: Cnady Payne, Maria Elena Urias, Liz Jaskoski, Gloria Zlacket, Heidi Braun, Janie Flynn, Katie Wilson, Kathy Vaughn, Margie Baumgartner, Angie Valencia, Jacquie Boulay, Mary Kurtin, Madelyn Bubala, Donna Anderson, and Jo Miller.

The songleaders were created to promote spirit at the games and assemblies. This is a full time job but besides this they are members of the marching unit. So "Sing along with the songleaders."

Connie Covell demonstrates how to do a new twirling technique.

Janie Flynn teaches her group a new routine.

In 1957, the majorettes first came together to form a squad. This year the squad consists of 12 members. They participate in half-time performances at the games, in parades and Band Day. They complete the marching unit and with hard practice and work, they hope to produce successful performances.

Connie Covell,
Head Majorette

1963 Lancerettes are: Kathy Morales, Cheryl Fendo, Judy Reuter, Rita Malone, Beth Taggart, Carmen Ramirez, Connie Covell, Judy Gawron, Theo Kweiser, Margie Beiser, Nancy Marchant, Madelyn Apodoca, and Jane Dilzer.

Salpointe's athletic prestige is reflected in their lettermen, who number 53 for the '62-'63 sports season.

Lettermen satirize the Amphi defeat for the homecoming assembly.

Excellence in a sport is a pre-requisite for membership in the Lettermen Club. This organization sponsors the gala homecoming festivities held each year.

Sports Clubs Help Promote Athletics

Girls Recreation association members compete against other high schools in volleyball, basketball, softball, hockey, speed-a-way, tennis, track, badminton, and archery. To conclude each sport a playday is held at one of the local high schools.

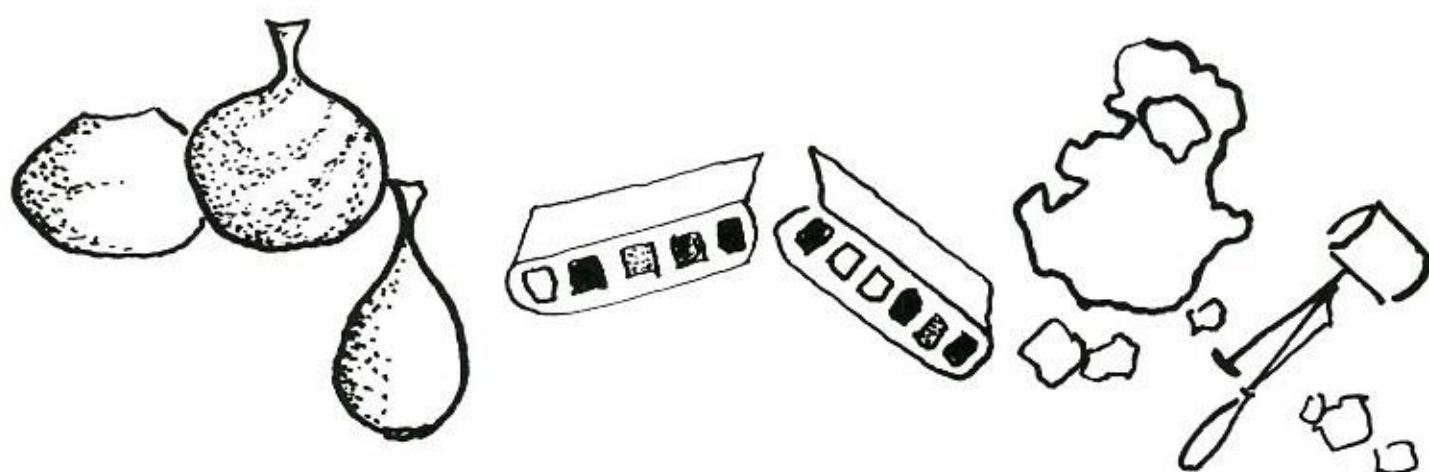

Mrs. Williams and G.R.A. officers examine information for their club activities.

Hall Monitors Regulate Traffic In Halls

Students unable to take art as a class develop their talents through membership in the art club. Contests challenge abilities and exhibits foster aesthetic appreciation in interested members.

Peggy McQueary and Christine Mojzesz exhibit one of the many matted paintings for the school art show.

Responsible for the smooth flow of traffic in the crowded halls are the hall monitors. These senior boys make sure that the one way traffic rules are observed, that students get to their classes on time and that general chaos is prevented in the halls.

Moms and Dads Work For School Through Various Activities

Mr. Fendo, Mr. Schaller, Mr. Montville, and Mr. Monacell, Dad's Club officers, again conducted a successful Christmas tree sales.

Making preparations for "Christmas in China" are: Mrs. Robert McAuliffe, Mrs. David Tang, and Mrs. Scot Henderson.

Parent's Club plays an important part in school life and development. The main functions of the Mother's Club is its bazaar. The Father's Club sponsors the athletic program, Christmas tree sales, and the Ham Dinner to raise funds.

Mother's Club officers for the year of 1963 are Mrs. John Wild, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Jack Travis, Treasurer, Mrs. John McQuown, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Dragutin Poje, President (standing).

Mrs. Robert McAuliffe, Mrs. David Tang, and Mrs. George Melton voluntarily aid Salpointe through the new organization, the Salpointe Subscription Service.

Lancer Staff Provides Programs For Games

To supply official news releases to all Arizona Media concerning all newsworthy events associated with Salpointe High School. Father Neal is the moderator.

Cameraman distracts Father Neal and Press Bureau members Ray Schroff and Henry Kaldenbaugh.

Father Neal points out to David Tang examples of good layout.

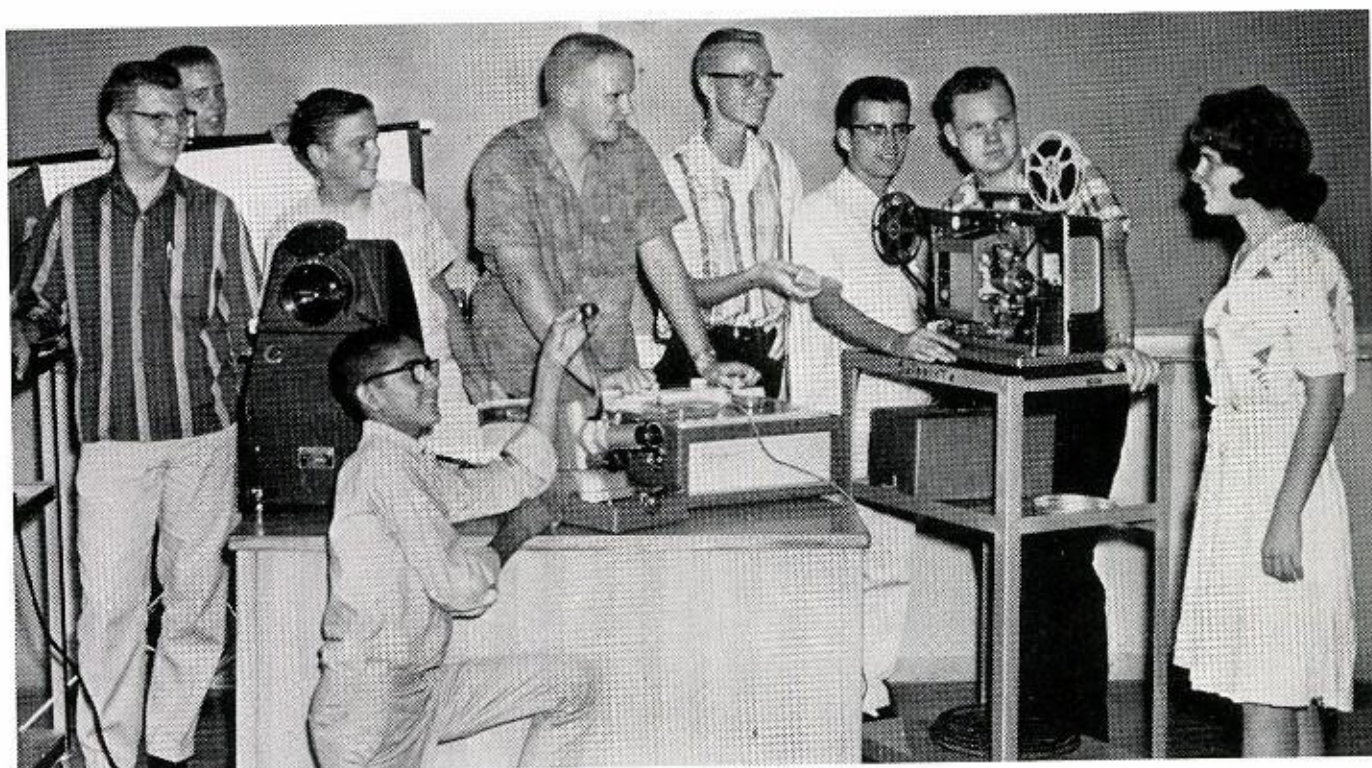

Lancer staff consists of: Rita Hershberger, Gloria Zlaket, Gloria Gorosave, David Tang, Mary Connor, Heidi Braun, and Cherry Tang.

Throughout the summer months and into the football season the staff of the "Lancer" worked to complete the 1962 Sports Preview and programs for the home games. While Father Aidan worked tirelessly in an effort to gather information and to employ new and unique ideas, staff members worked on layouts, pictures, paste-ups, ads, and various other tasks necessary in editing the programs. The staff, under Editor Cherry Tang and assistant Mary Conner, (left) assists the athletic department in publicizing tournaments and sponsoring the football and spring banquets.

Business Club Teaches Members Ins And Outs Of Business World

After completion of a training course, Projectionists are authorized to operate movie, slide and opaque projectors and all other audio-visual equipment for their classes as well as other occasions.

Members of the Projectionist Club try to induce Sheila O'Brien to join.

Carol Schwager, a dependable and efficient member of the business club, uses one of the many business machines with which she is familiar.

The Duplicators Club furnishes competent operators for the schools ditto and mimeograph machines, as a service to the faculty and other organizations.

Craig Schmucker, Bill Cassidy, Art King, Sister Ellenita, and Jeannie Dunham execute club duties.

The Business Efficiency Club is a service organized to perform secretarial work for faculty members and organizations who desired such services. It is moderated by Sister Dolorosa.

New And Old Clubs Channel Activities Of Students

Salpointe's most recent organization, the Inter-National Relations Club, promotes a better understanding of the international family by acquainting its members with customs and cultures other than their own. This is accomplished by inviting guest speakers from various countries and by showing movies and slides. Extra credit is given in social studies classes to all the members.

Members of the El Cee Committee crowd around John Fitzpatrick who is tallying Key Club points.

El Cees, our Student Council's emergency aid club, has worked hard this year on many student council activities. You might have seen them working on the patio decorations for the magazine drive or standing on the corners down town for our city-wide "peanuts for polio" drive. Hostessing the eighth graders on T.G.A. Day and acquainting them with Salpointe are also activities of this group.

"What's wrong with my car?" queries Karen Johnson of Bob Battaglia and Jon Cox during Safety Check.

Promoting safety and preventing accidents constitutes the reason for the Salpointe Safety Council. Through auto checkups and lectures on safe driving, the council encourages safety.

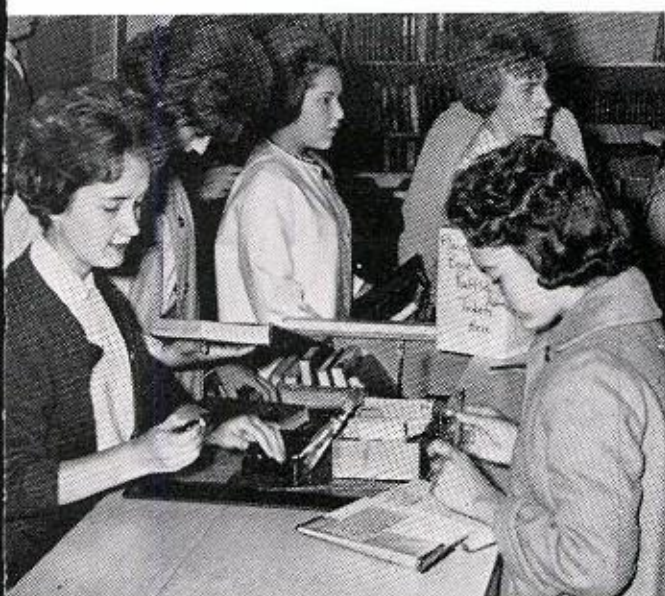

Sister Kathleen Francis with Jeff Nordenson and Sara Lopez shows movie slides during an I.R.C. meeting.

Library, Record, And Nurses' Clubs Create Activities For Students

Assisting in the efficient operation of the library is the main duty of the Library Club members. Checking books in and out, and assisting students in the search for certain books are tasks in which members are proficient.

Gail Trautt goes about her librarian duties in the early morning rush.

In observance of the new library regulation, Diane Troyan checks Dan Castelan's identification.

Nurses' Club members practice medical techniques for the future.

Through their many activities and interests in public health, members of the Future Nurses Club discover whether this is what they are looking for as a career.

Preparing the records to be used for a Friday night dance are Andy Griffith, Joan O'Brien, Patty Kern, and John Ikard.

Although the Record Club has only one year of experience to its credit, it has succeeded in maintaining its initial purpose. There is a three-fold purpose behind this organization: first, to increase interest among students in the many types of music; second, to keep a record library of all Salpointe owned records; and third, to play recorded programs at special functions.

CLASSES

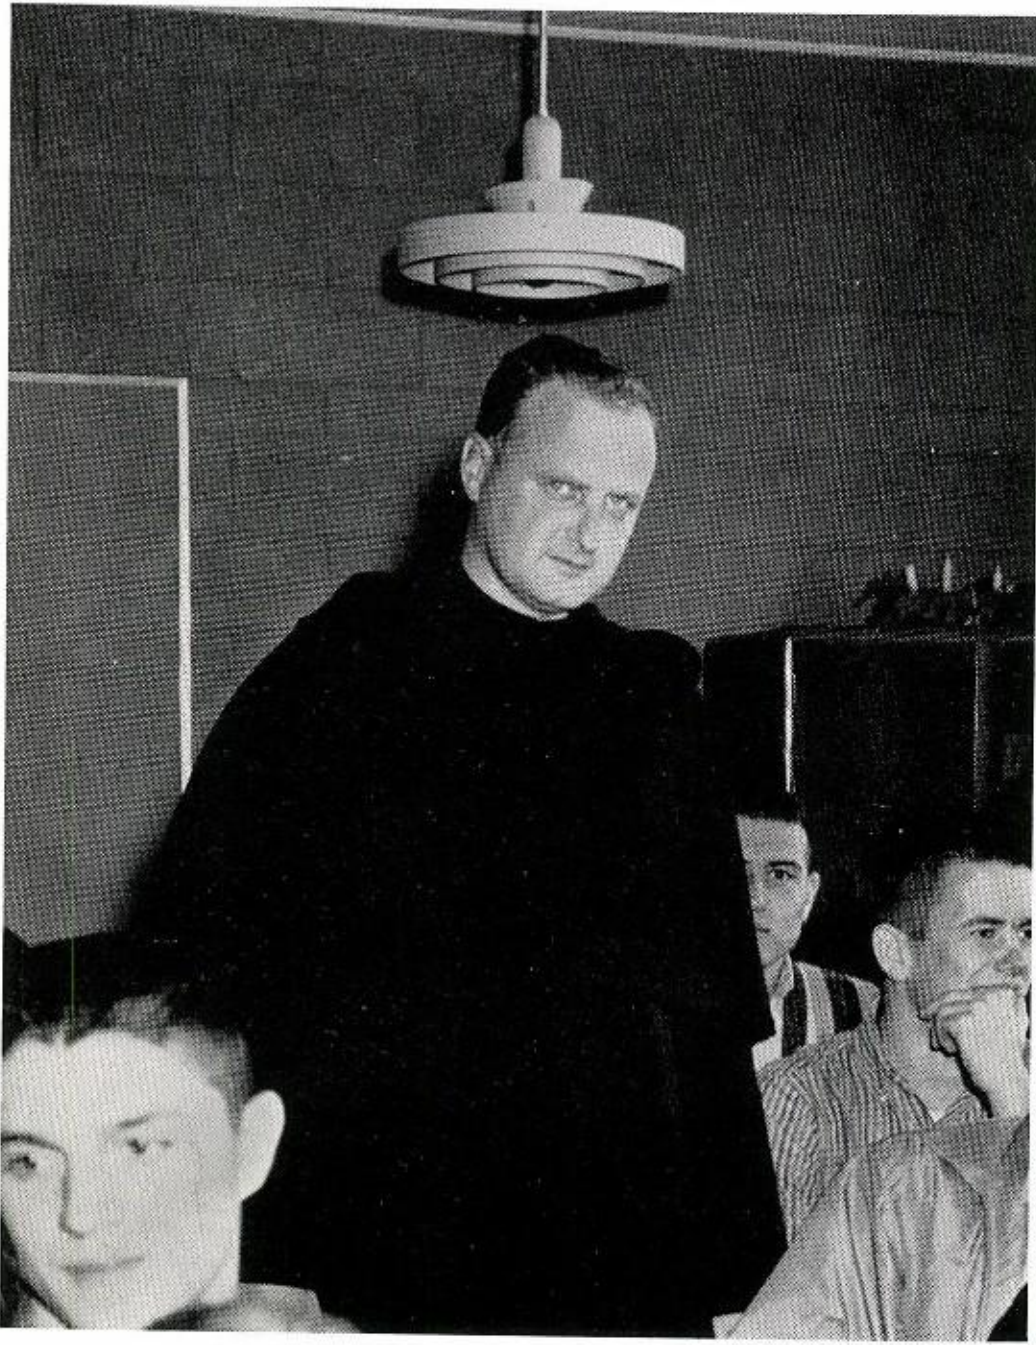

Tirips was confused. He had been standing in the hall observing the mass confusion, when suddenly, a bell rang and everyone disappeared.

"Where did everybody go?" he exclaimed. "I think I'll look into this." He peeked in one of the windows and saw a typical classroom in session. "What's the point of all this?" he queried.

Unknown to Tirips, he was seeing man at his best—man thinking.

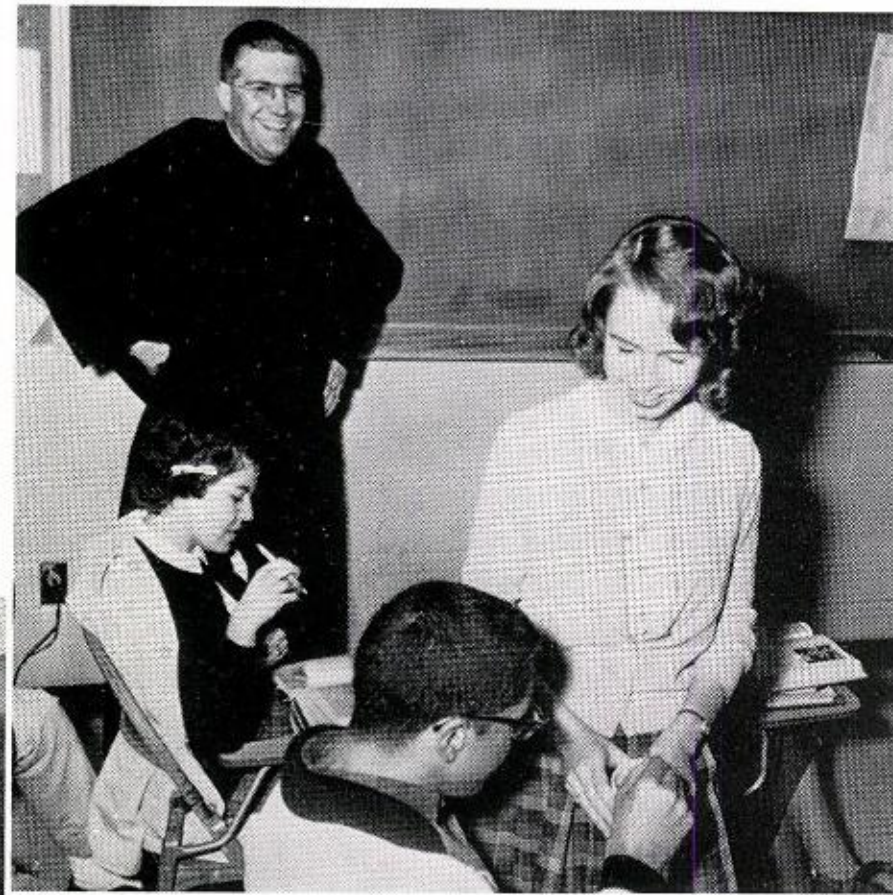

Religion Classes Strengthen Spiritual Life

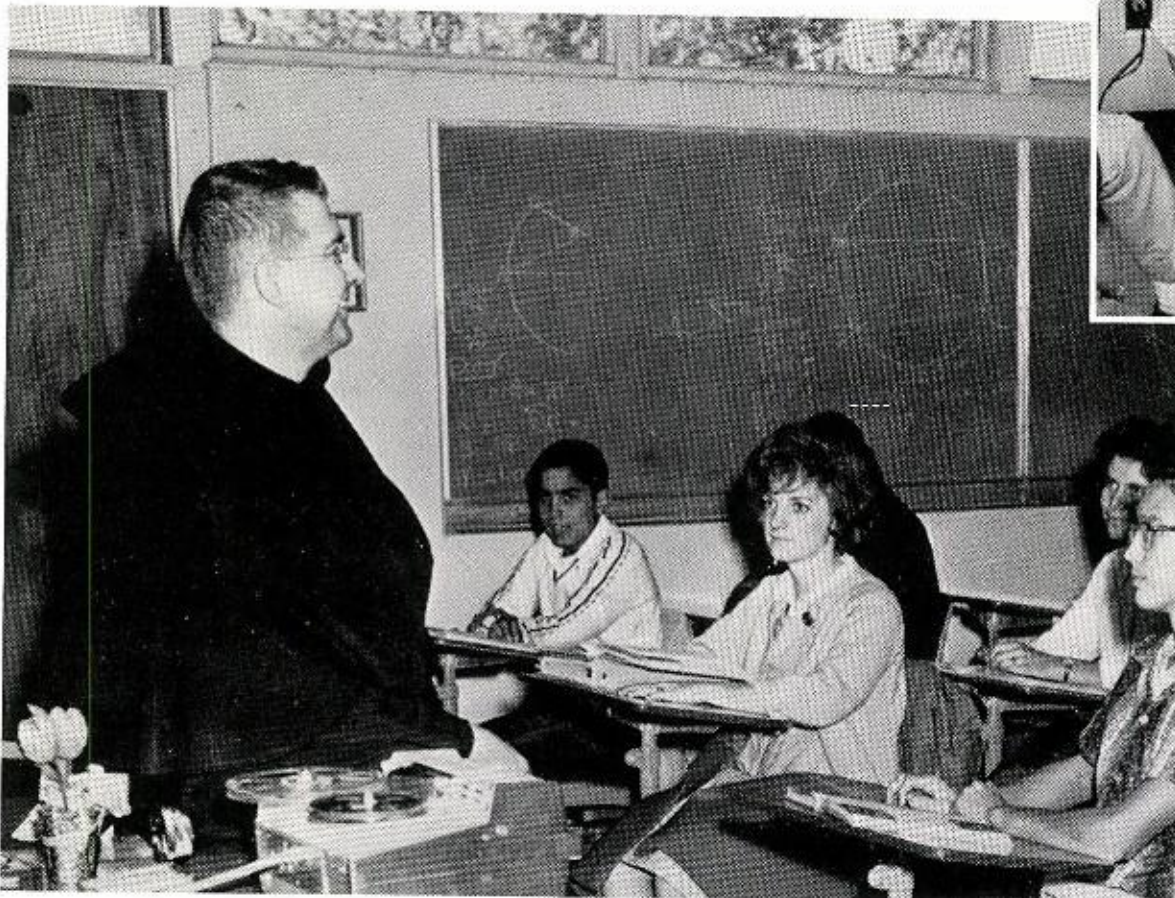

The Senior boys' religion class discuss many points with Father Roy concerning plans for their future lives.

Religion, from the Latin, religio, to bind back expresses our relationship to God. It is more than a course to study; it is a life to be lived.

The various religion courses supply the students with a necessary knowledge of their faith. Underclassmen study the life of Christ, the sacraments, the Mass, and the Commandments. Seniors study apologetics, a defense of the faith, and they are given a marriage preparation course.

Under the gentle prodding of Father Fidelis and Pat Barleycorn, Pete Penczar submits his last nickel to the mission collection.

Genial Father Fidelis adds a second voice from the tape recorder in his freshman religion class.

Appreciation Of Literature Is Created In English Classes

Grammar and literature play an important role in every student's life. To unify the student's background, the English department has integrated the composition and literature courses. This program, which was begun last year, has proved to be very successful.

Rainy-day artwork provides senior honors class with an opportunity to explain and analyze their masterpieces. Lupe Carrillo and Bob Evans await interpretations.

Sir Winston Churchill once credited his success in life to what he called, "a thorough knowledge of the English language."

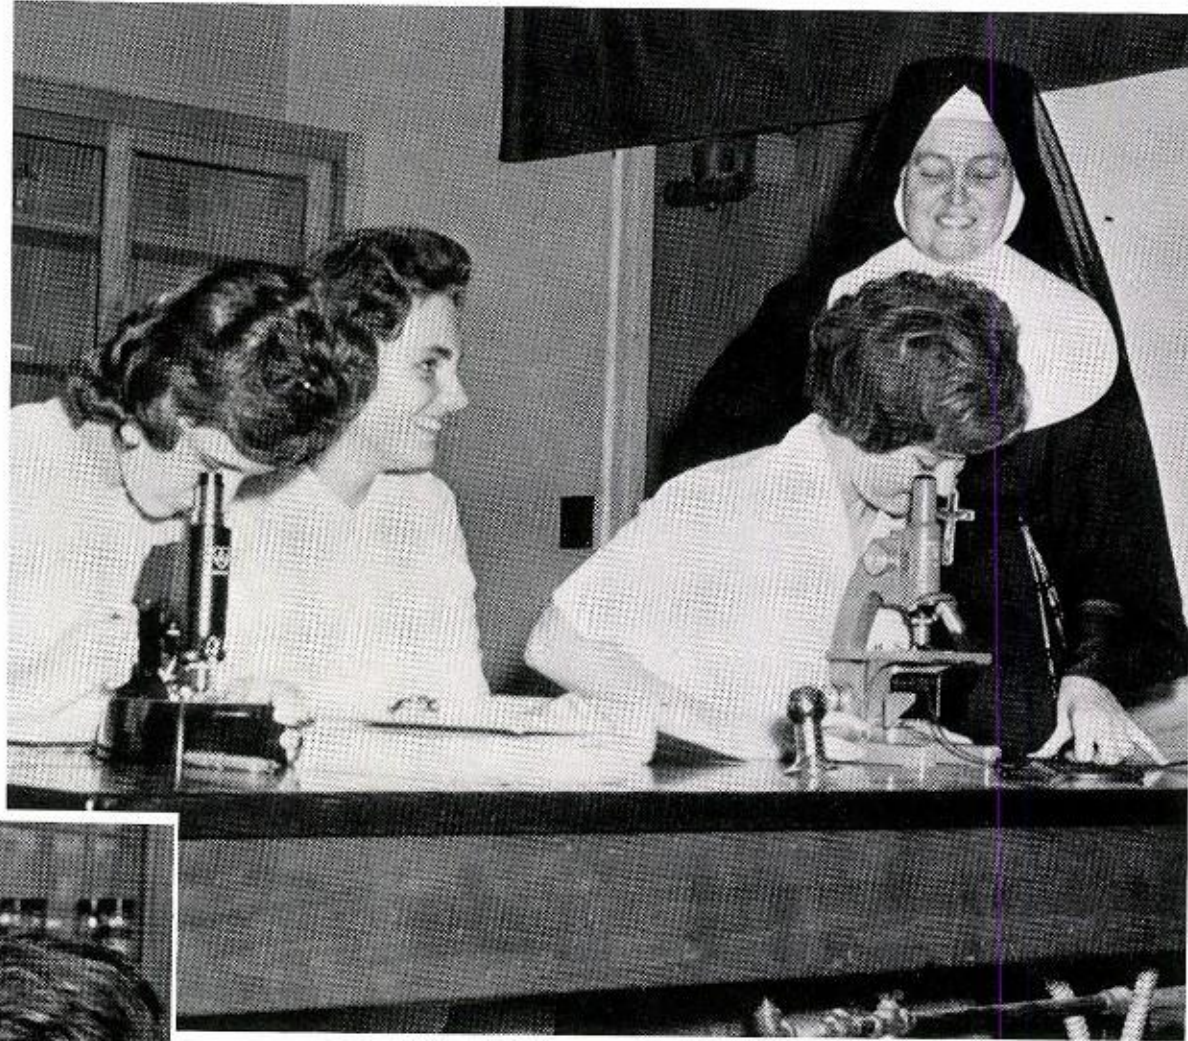

Sharon Guidry consults Sister Mary Seton about a literature problem while Pat Malloy waits his turn.

Sophomore honors student, Margaret Jaskowski, gives her interpretation of a poem.

Amateur Scientists Demonstrate Skill

Salpointe's science department every year contributes to the discovery of scientific talent. By providing a conducive environment for research and study, our science classes lay the foundation for future scientists.

Sister Joan of Ark looks on in amusement as Rita Malone and Eileen Ryan follow the movement of the amoeba under the eye of the microscope in Biology class while Ellen Crowley eagerly waits her turn.

The task of dissecting and locating the organs of a starfish befalls fellow biologists Evelyn Carrillo, Margaret Walthier and Beth Hoffman.

In this space age man's knowledge of his surroundings is increasing daily and Salpointe is making a fine contribution to this effort.

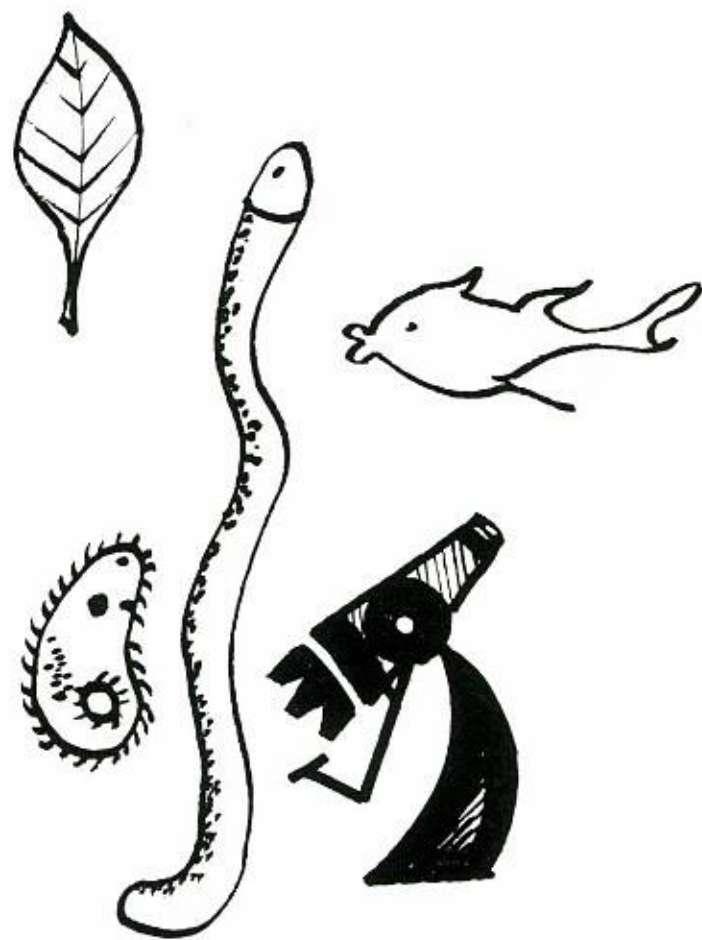

Diane Padilla, Sara Lopez and Michael Hennessey complete an oxygen experiment.

n Biology, Chemistry, And Physics

Judy Hermes and Ed Joganic follow scientific procedure in a physics class.

Bill McManus and Bob Favuzza complete their experiment with a hydrogen test while other Chemistry class members proceed with theirs.

Chemists Bob Kimball and Jerry Braun cautiously stir a heated carbon solution as Steve Bahre observes and notes the properties of the resulting esters.

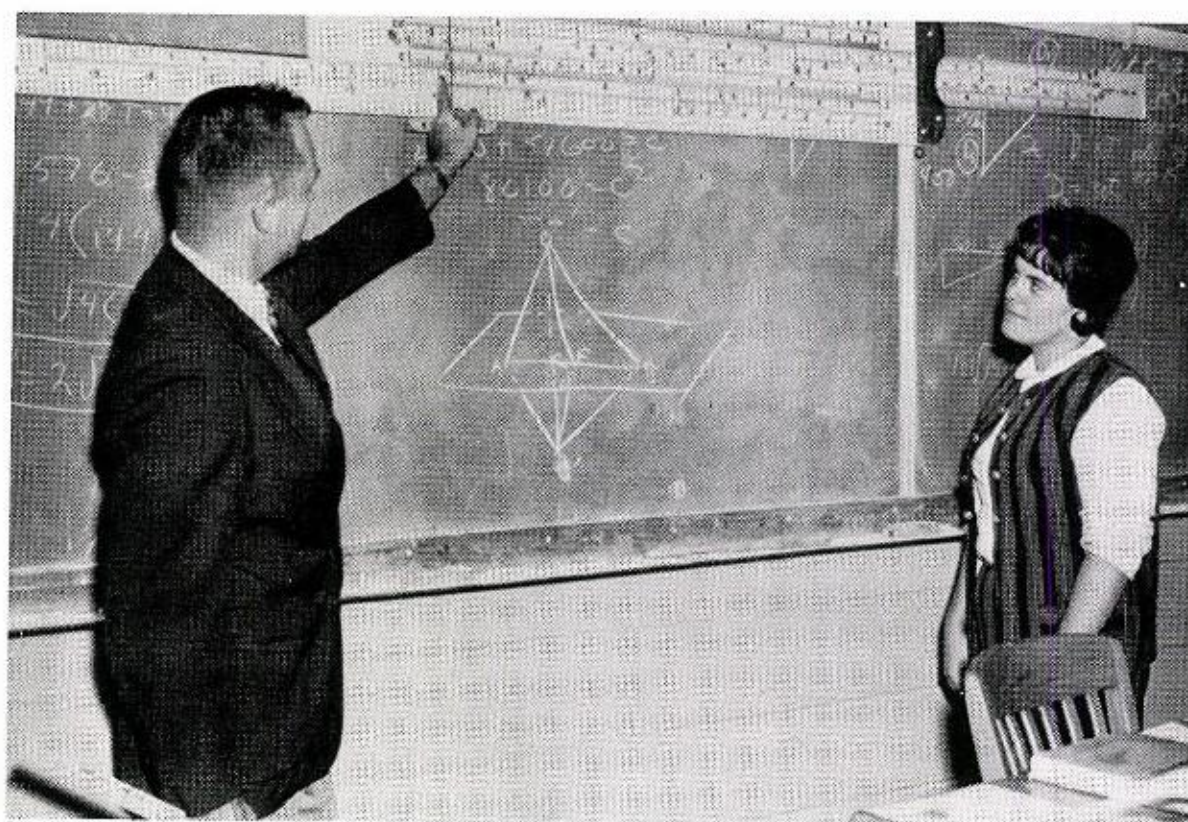

Math Courses Sharpen Minds For Deeper Thinking

Beauty in geometric designs intrigues Noreen Tirrell, Karl Odgers, Margaret Jaskowski, and Gary Jarrold.

The prime purpose of the math courses is to teach the students how to think logically and how to arrive at the solution of a problem.

The freshman is confronted with the first step in mathematics here by practical math or algebra I. Then he may continue on to geometry, advanced algebra and trigonometry to round out a possible four years of math. Two years of math are required and this requirement is for a good reason, to make the students careful thinkers.

The mystery of the slide rule is solved for Barbara Hawley by Mr. Higgins.

Latin Linguists Delve Into Vergil's Aeneid

Vergil's Aeneid and Cicero are just a few of the studies of Salpointe's Latin scholars. With the aid of their instructors they begin to understand and appreciate the beauty of this ancient language. The four years of Latin offered at Salpointe make a fine background for any field of endeavor.

Sister Mary Richard Therese locates a strategic area on the map for Latin students Elizabeth Wild and Niki Grivas.

Latin I scholar Dennis Johnson receives mild correction from Fr. Neal during class.

Spanish Scholars Revive The Glory Of Old Spain

Under the direction of department instructor Sister Mary St. Jude, Peggy Dillon posts pictures conducive to the study of Spanish.

With the aid of Salpointe's new equipment the Spanish department has been able to teach with the most modern methods available.

The students feel the glory of the old and beautiful language of Spain as they begin to speak and write it. Compositions, oral recitations and songs are all a part of the daily classroom routine.

Jeff Nordensson starts the Spanish recordings for Karl Gorwoods, Allen Hennessey, Thomas Cuevas, Brian Cohen and David Leonard in the class program.

Janet Zito gives a translation of Spanish literature to fourth year Spanish students. Listening are Sara Lopez, Gabriela Barbara, Mrs. Astiazaran, instructor, Peggy Dillon, Jaime Blake, and Sharron Noelke.

Past And Present World Affairs Interest Students

Dana O'Sullivan distributes a Newsweek to Lari Hesler in a typical Monday American Problems class.

At Salpointe, students gain a better understanding of the world today through Social Studies. In world history, freshmen study the progress of civilization since primitive times. Juniors center their interest on the growth of the U.S. since 1607. What problems face our government and their possible solutions confront the seniors in American problems classes.

Coach Potts attempts to explain a geographical problem to a freshman World History student.

Crusader Staff Works Diligently To Issue Paper

Father Neal, Moderator of The Crusader, goes over final plans with Editor Mary Ann Vidal.

The CRUSADER, the school newspaper, adequately covered all phases of school life, striving to keep the faculty and student body up to date with the recent events and developments around the school. In order to finance their publication, the CRUSADER staff members sponsored a festive Mardi Gras dance which proved a great success.

Staff members include: Mary Carol King, Nancy Allen, Terri Culler, Mike Kelly, Jim Riggs, Jane Marum, Michele Hughes, and Mary Ann Vidal.

After weeks of anticipation and over-eager peeking, HORIZONS co-editors Suzi Jacobs, Lupe Carrillo and Georgia Martinez unveil Tirips. Tirips was created by Suzi to hold a prominent place on the west wall of the HORIZONS office.

Karen Bach consults editor Lupe Carrillo about cropping a picture with the use of the scale-o-gram.

Secretarial Studies Insure Good Jobs

The goal of the Business department is to prepare the students to be efficient office workers. Under the capable supervision of Sister Dolorosa, it strives to acquaint the student with the various duties of clerical workers in the spirited competition of the business world. Prompted by this, the Salpointe students study courses in general business, typing, shorthand and bookkeeping.

Both speed and efficiency are emphasized in secretarial courses. Sister Ellenita advises a shorthand student to adopt a better method toward developing brief forms.

New forms in shorthand coming out in the new Gregg book to be used in classes in Sept., 1963, is the subject of the brochure Sister Ellenita shows her class.

Nancy Darling strives to perfect her ability in using the dictaphone.

Future Business Careers

Carol Ann Spalver, Susan Scrima, Mary Ann Cheske, and Margaret Vitt display their secretarial knowledge to Father Roy.

Anne Green demonstrates typing form and technique in the well-equipped typing room.

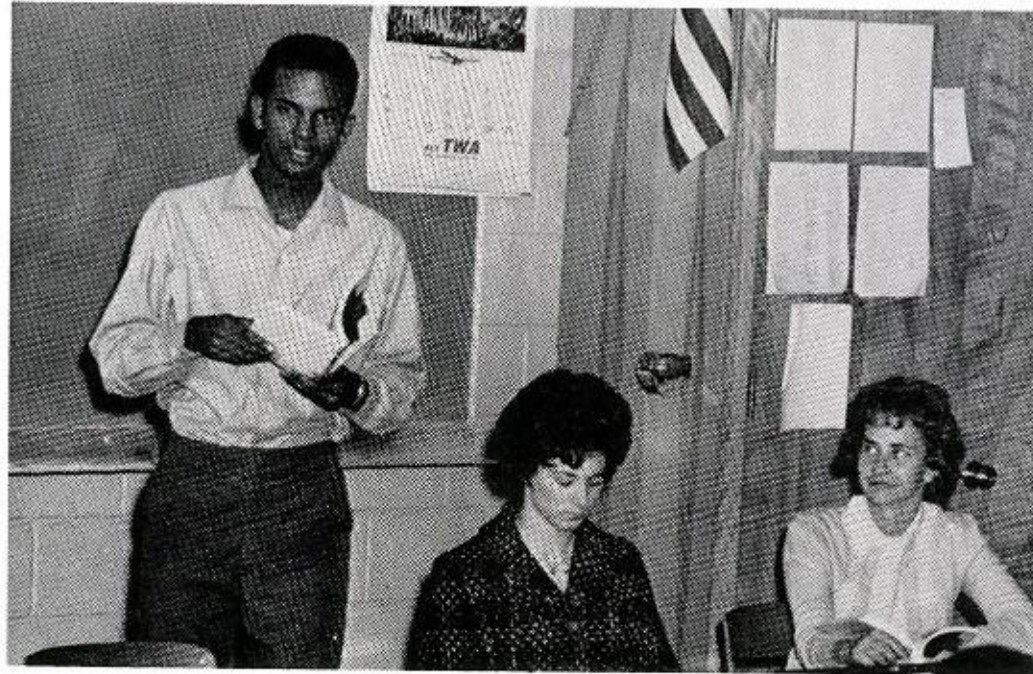

Sister Dolorosa stresses systematic work during her bookkeeping class.

Guidance And Discipline Signify Duties Of Deans

Sister Maria Magdalen gives counsel to Ann Green concerning Iowa Test results.

During Tirips' stay here at Salpointe he noticed particularly the emphasis that the faculty places on counseling and guiding the students individually. The primary aim of Salpointe's guidance program is to direct the students toward making right and wise decisions about life's problems.

Participating in a panel during the homeroom guidance period are: Mike De-Fayette, Jane Kolter, and Heidi Braun.

Luis Castellum receives direction from Father Neal, college counselor.

Retreats, homeroom guidance, vocation talks, College Day and Career Conferences all help to gear the student to a better understanding of themselves and to prepare for their life's work.

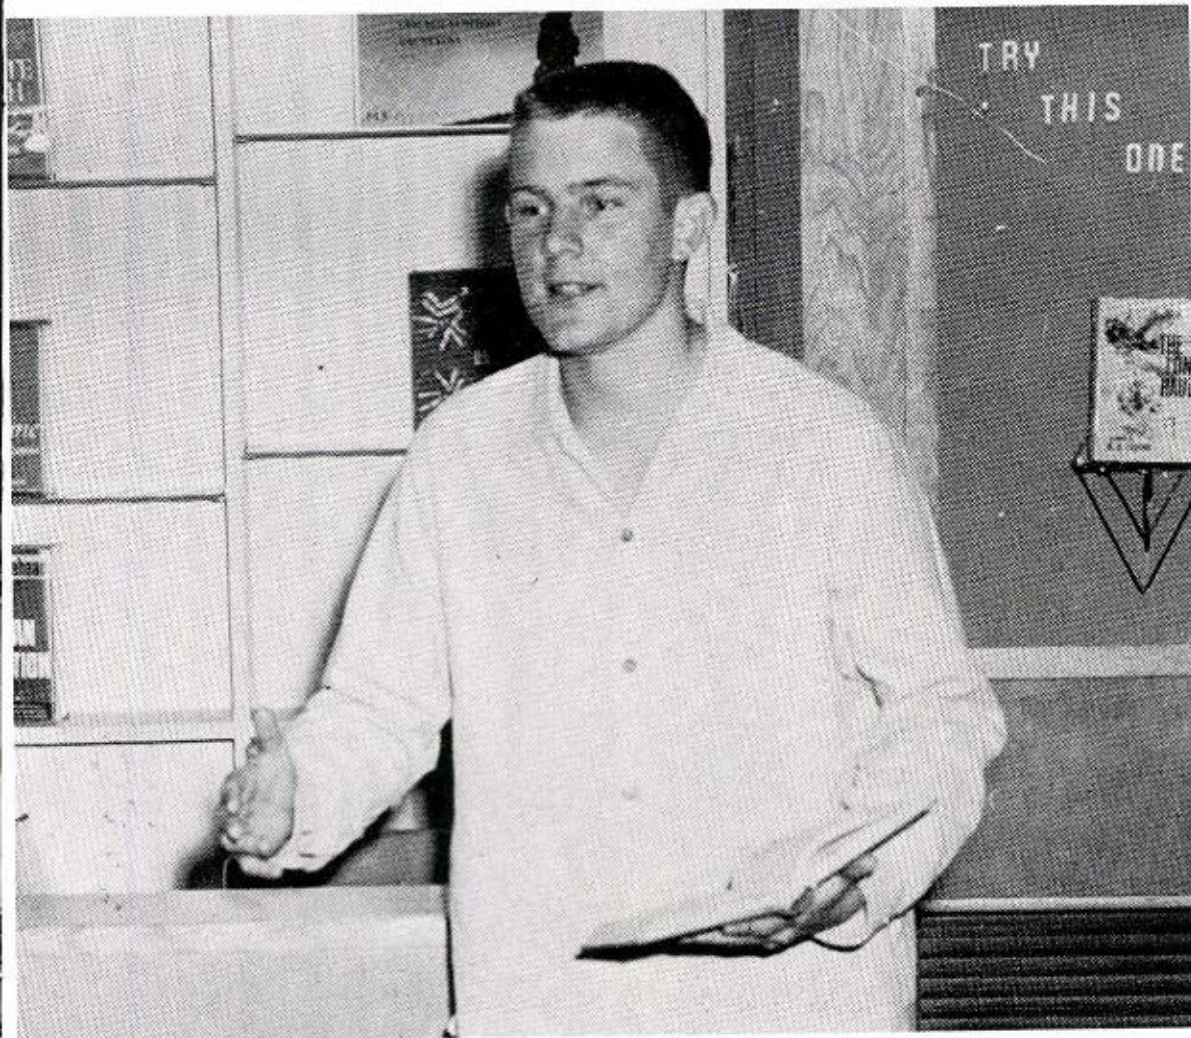

Speech Students Take First In Tournaments

The world today needs people who have a good command of the language and the ability and confidence to present correct thoughts. This is an ability that will help a person in any vocation he might choose.

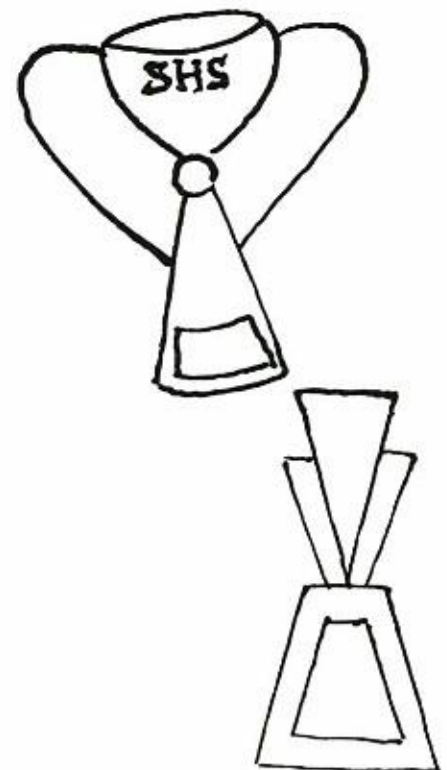

To make articulate Christians is the aim of the speech department. In the speech classes, the students learn to express their ideas with ease and fluency.

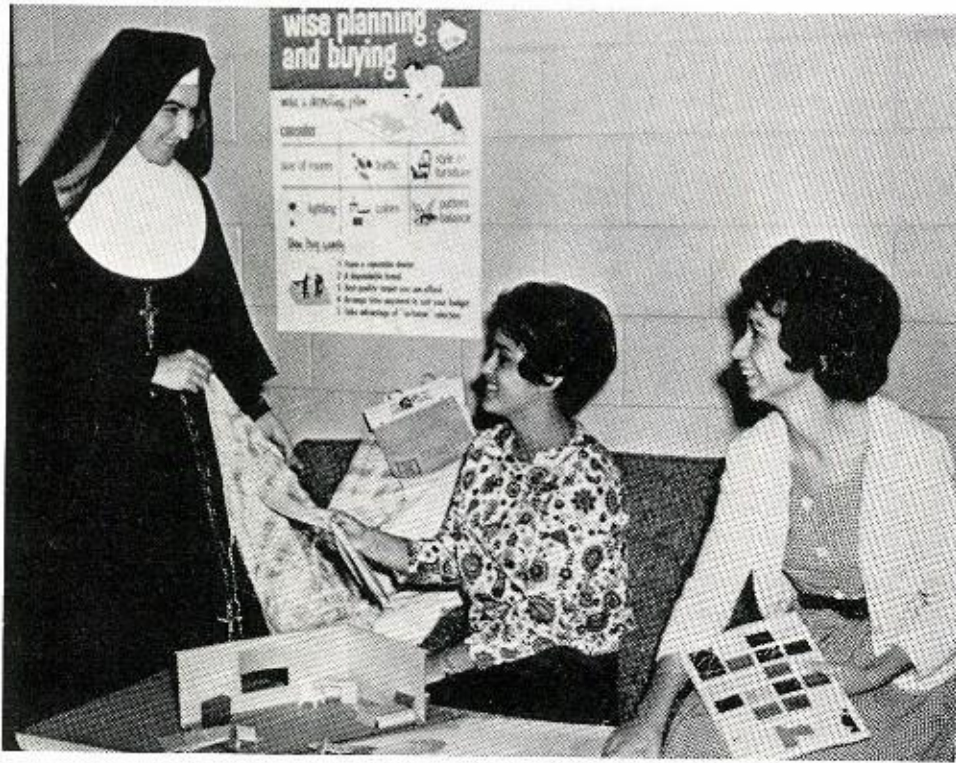

Nancy Giguere attempts to give a logical explanation of the geometrical design as an exercise in speech class.

Using force and fluency, Bob Kimball practices a prose selection during speech class.

End Of Year Finds Girls Skills

Sr. Mary Hugh aids Mary Conner and Gloria Gorosave in coordinating colors for their home planning project.

Homemakers of tomorrow, Janet Hammond, Frannie Kobida, and Shirley Gaver, combine their skills and efforts to the task of cake baking, while Diane Padilla busies herself preparing a fresh cup of coffee.

Home Ec class is a training ground for the homemaker of tomorrow. Good grooming, house planning, decorating, sewing, and cooking come under the heading of Home Economics. These young ladies will collect a catalog of helps and hints for future use. This information will be in everyday use to them as a homemaker or in any other vocation. They also are imbued with the Christian attitude toward married life. When they leave school they will be well-equipped to take on the duties of women, Christian women.

Mary Cheske gives Gloria Zlacket helpful hints concerning good grooming habits.

The Techniques Of Home Ec

Sewing, cutting patterns, and pressing seams engage the attention of freshmen girls.

Mary Conner removes a pan of Danish rolls from the oven to serve to famished senior homemakers Georgia Martinez, Marlene Sacha, Gloria Gorosave and Carol Karakey.

How do you keep a four-year old occupied? Heidi Braun demonstrates by using pictures in a magazine and a hippopotamus.

Physical Education Classes Build Strong Bodies

For the benefit of the camera this junior class combines their strength and agility to form a pyramid.

Coach McCarter and one of his classes show the new stress placed on physical exercises in all P.E. classes.

"Easy does it," says Billy Velez as Coach McCarter hoists him to his shoulders while other class members observe the feat.

Basketball, tennis, archery, volleyball, softball, and badminton comprise the special activities of the girls' physical educational program.

The President's Council of Youth Fitness feels that American girls should try to participate in more active sports. The athletic program at Salpointe helps prepare girls to work with others in a harmonious atmosphere. Sports builds strong minds and bodies and instills sportsmanship in girls to be young ladies whether winning or losing. It's not really important if they win or lose. It matters more the manner in which they have played.

Pat Steffen and Judi Huser retrieve the arrows shot by Carmen Ramirez.

Students Express Ideas And Feelings Through Art

During the year, art students use imagination and skill to create sculpture, jewelry, Christmas cards, and textile printing. Under the guidance of Sr. Leonard Marie students develop their powers of creativity. The inspiring results of this supervision is Salpointe's exceptional show of talent displayed in the Gerke building Exhibit and the State Art Exhibit in Phoenix every year.

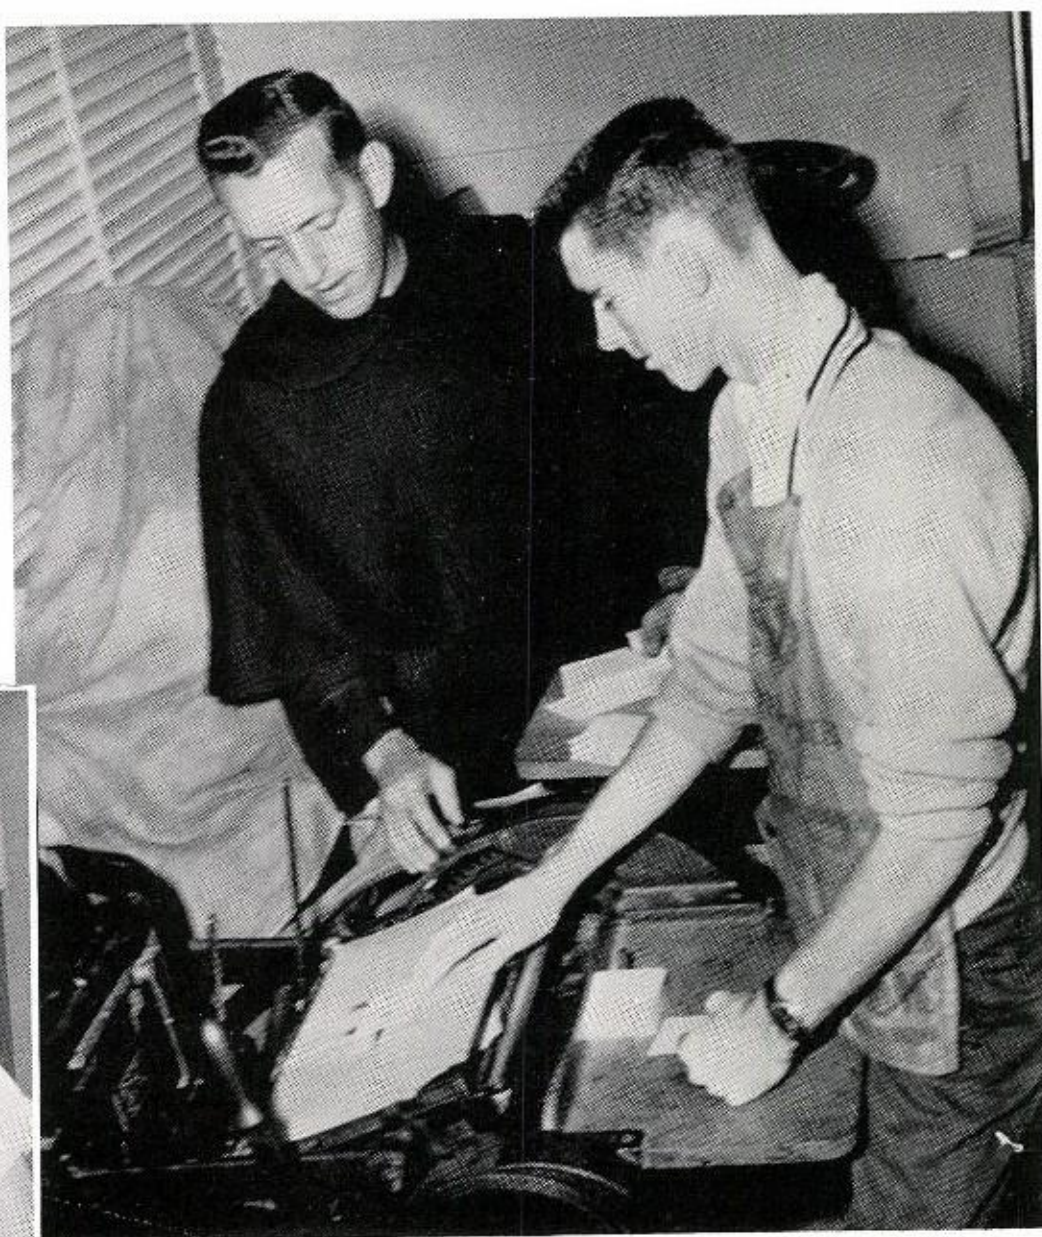

Carol Kinsock, Margaret Walthier and Charlotte Bender skillfully arrange the bulletin board in the art classroom.

Salpointe's photography and printing shops besides teaching important skills also provide much needed school service. The sports programs, the pictures in the newspaper and the yearbook are all products of these shops.

Father Alvin supervises Joe Sweeney in a printing project.

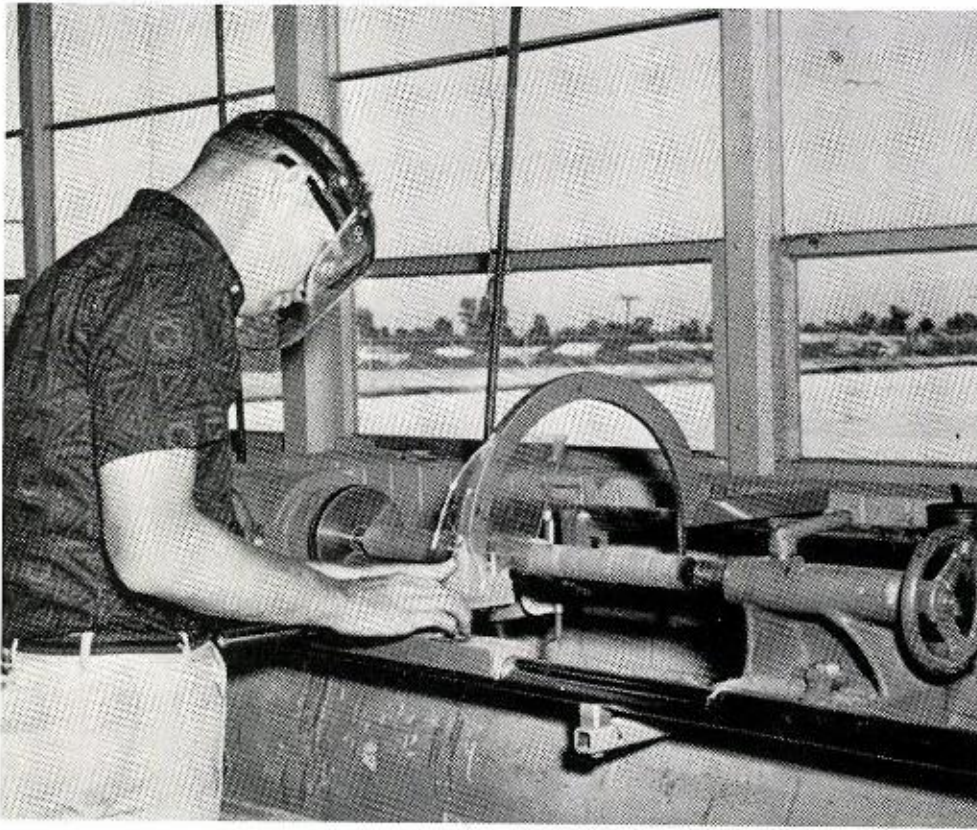

John Cox and Charlie Barnes listen intently to Father Alvin as he explains parts of the printing machine.

Without David Tang and John Bender the '63 Horizons would not have been.

Shop Courses Prepare Students For

Tom Malone attacks first step toward a project in workshop.

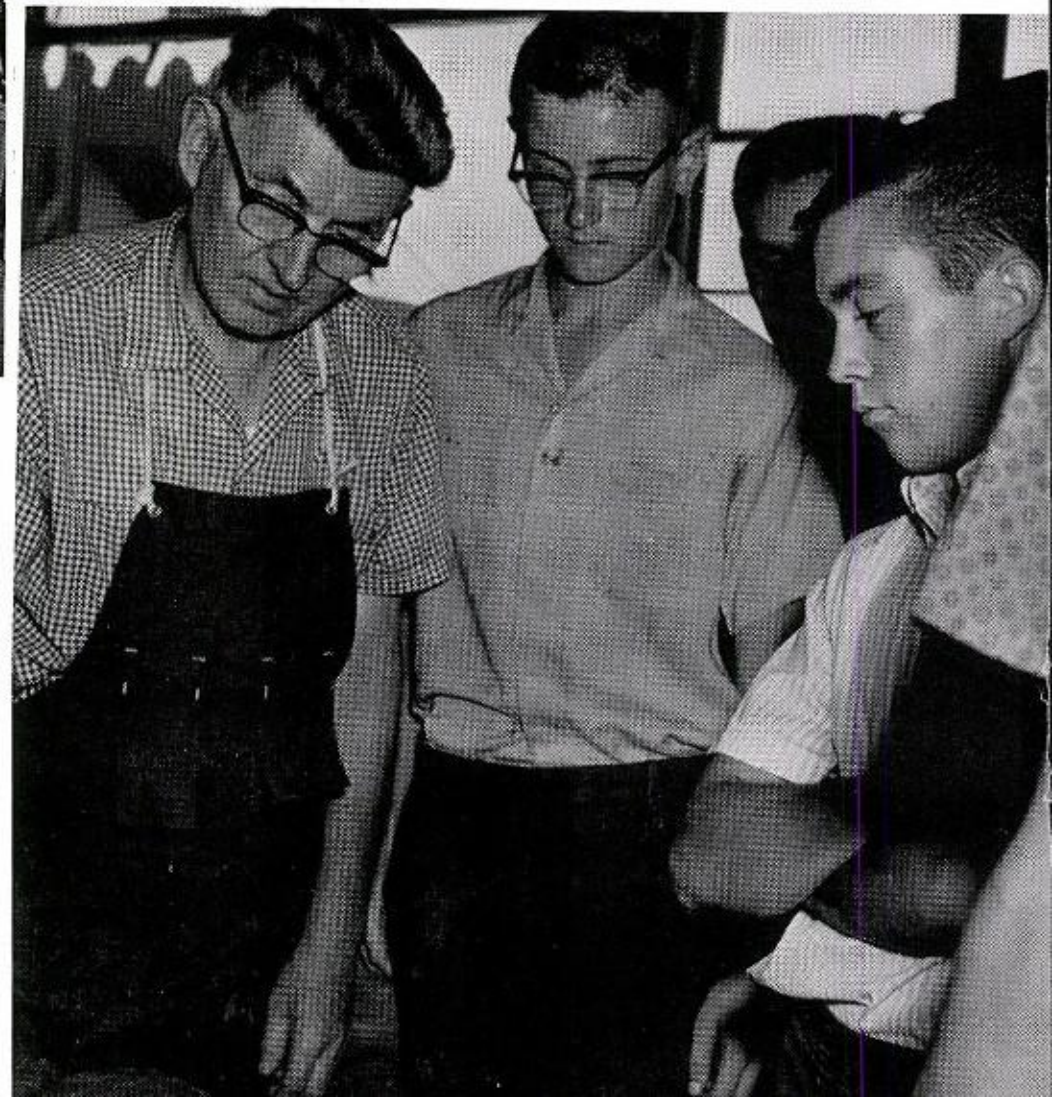

Finishing touches are applied by Bill Westhafer at completion of project.

Mike Floyd watches Mr. Blide point out an intricate working-piece on a machine used in metals.

The world we live in needs skilled hands in many jobs. To achieve these skills, training is needed at the high school level. Salpointe's shops are well-equipped and have fine instructors to offer courses that will prepare the students for future jobs.

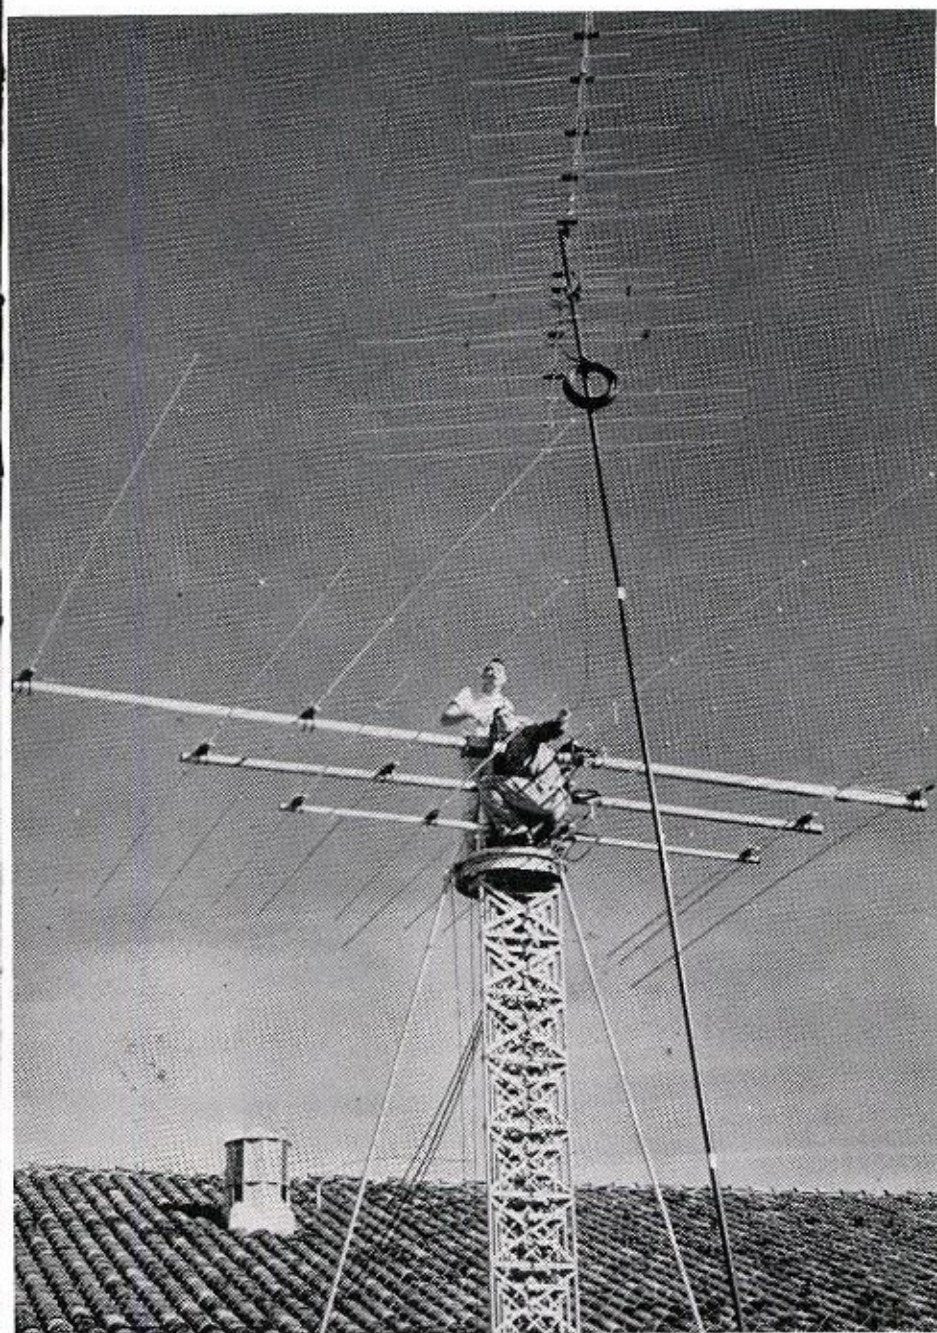

Working for a fine finished product requires a skillful knowledge of the machinery and equipment used. Mr. Blide offers an exact explanation of the planer.

Electrical, Architectural, And Carpentry Work

At Salpointe, shop courses are offered in printing, photography, woodwork, metals, drafting and electricity. These classes are given in the Gerke Vocational building where students are prepared to take a place in our industrial society.

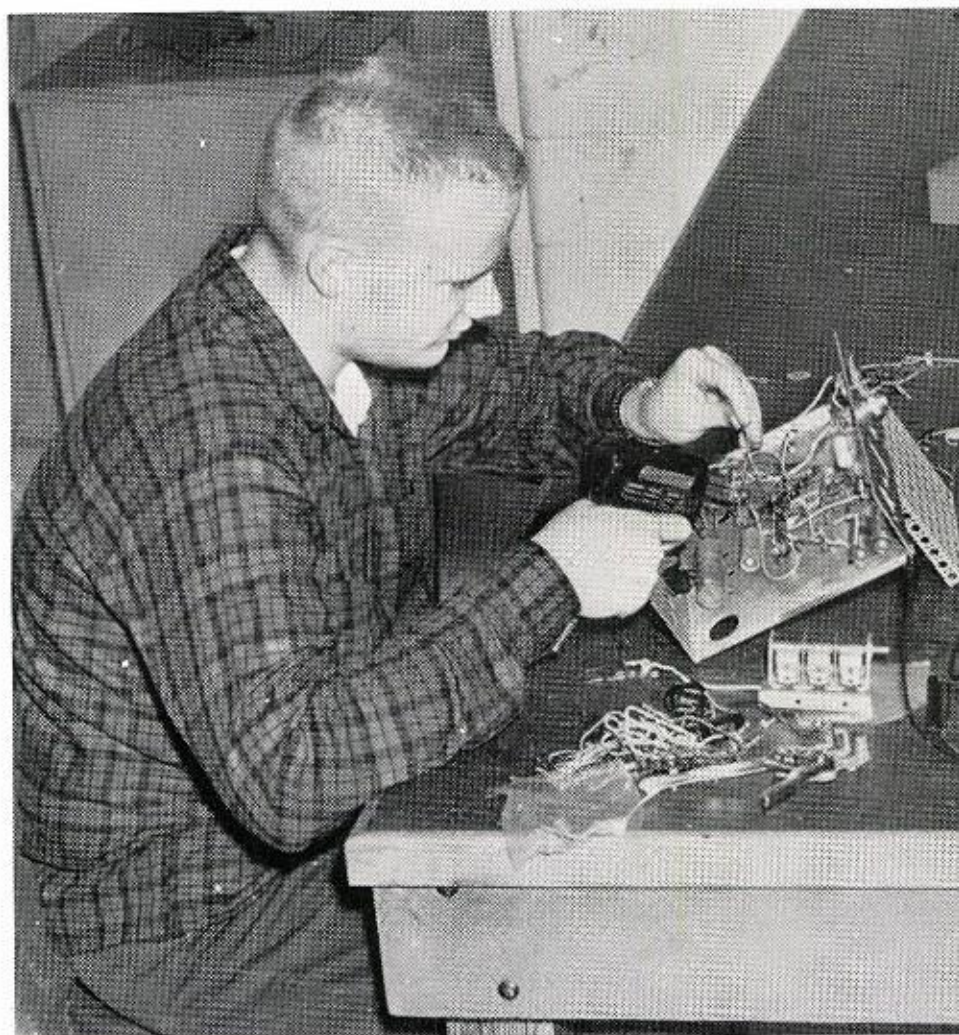

The exactness and artistry of drafting Father Peter explains to Pat O'Leary and Jerry Jordan.

To use in his television project Father Donan bought a "Colortron" color TV antenna. Father, with the aid of several electronics students, completed the difficult task of raising it to the top of the radio tower and adjusting it. Father and Henry Kaldenbaugh ascended the thirty-foot tower to fasten the antenna that had been carefully raised by the ground crew.

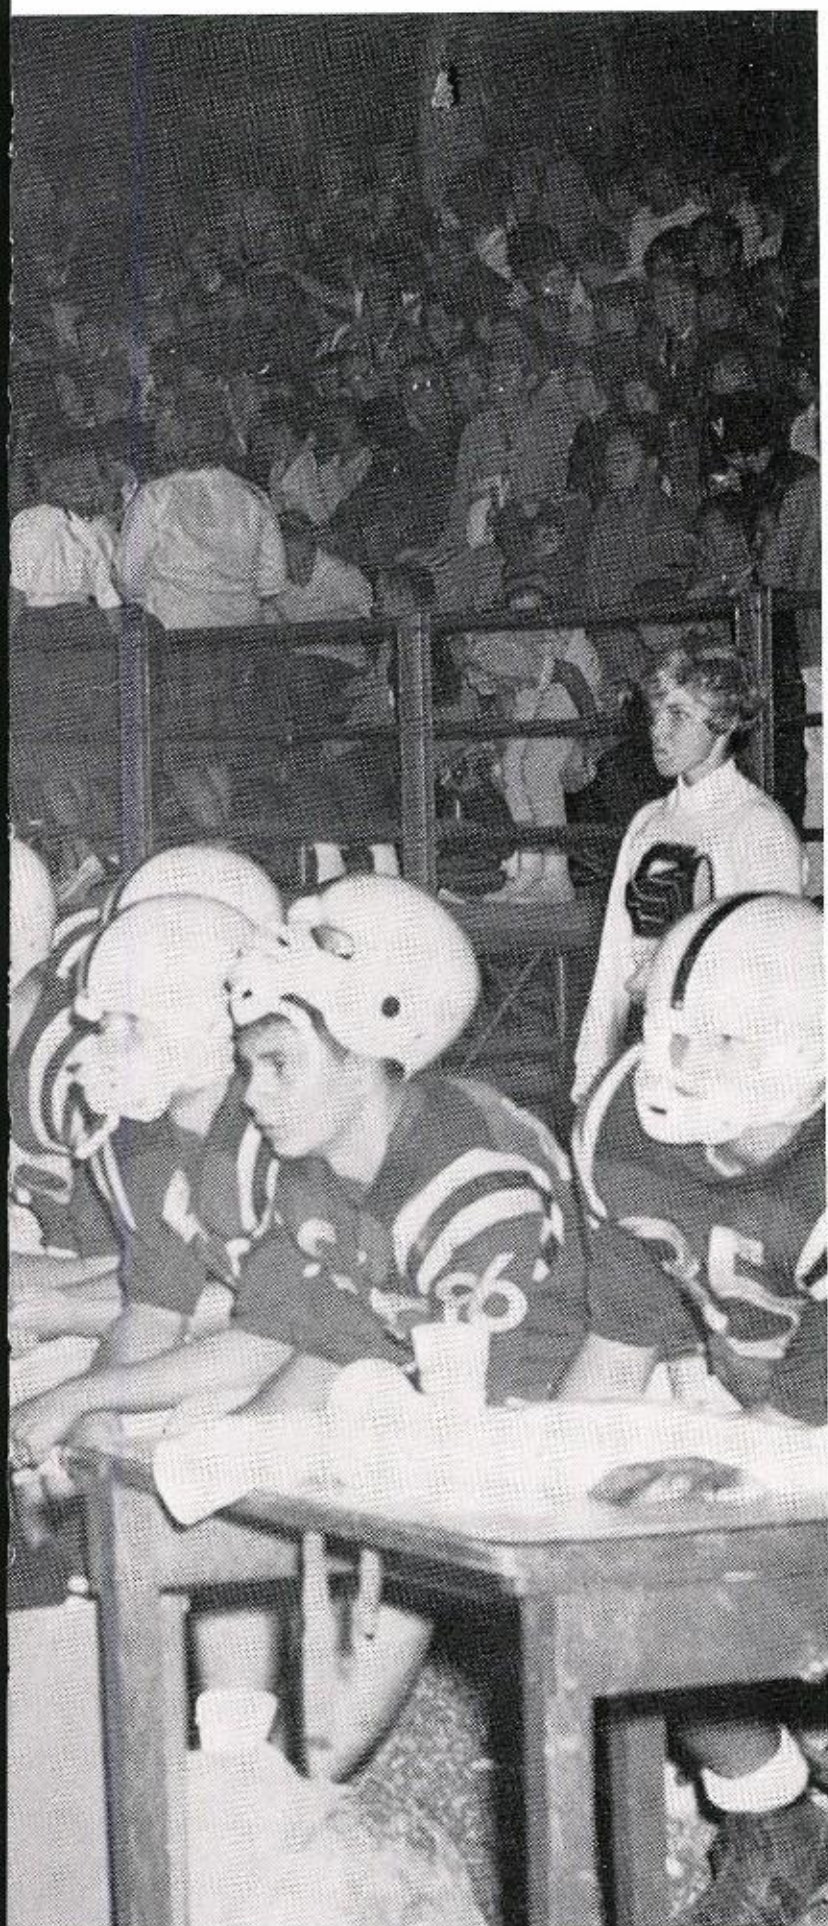

Father Donan and Henry Kaldenbaugh employ teamwork in receiving the raised "Colortron." Father slowly guides the antenna to him by a rope.

Assembling a radio is no major problem for Dave Easton.

SPORTS

“Young Americans must be made fit to serve our nation in its hour of need, fit to face the future with confidence,” stated President Kennedy. At Salpointe, we are complying with this recommendation through our athletic program. Boys and girls alike participate in many athletic activities.

Before an enthusiastic homecoming crowd the Lancers coasted to an easy victory over the visiting Amphi Panthers. Salpointe scored in the first quarter on a run by Steffen. In the second period the Lancers scored three times given them a halftime lead of 35-0. In the second half the Panthers split four TDs with the Lancers to keep the score from climbing out of sight.

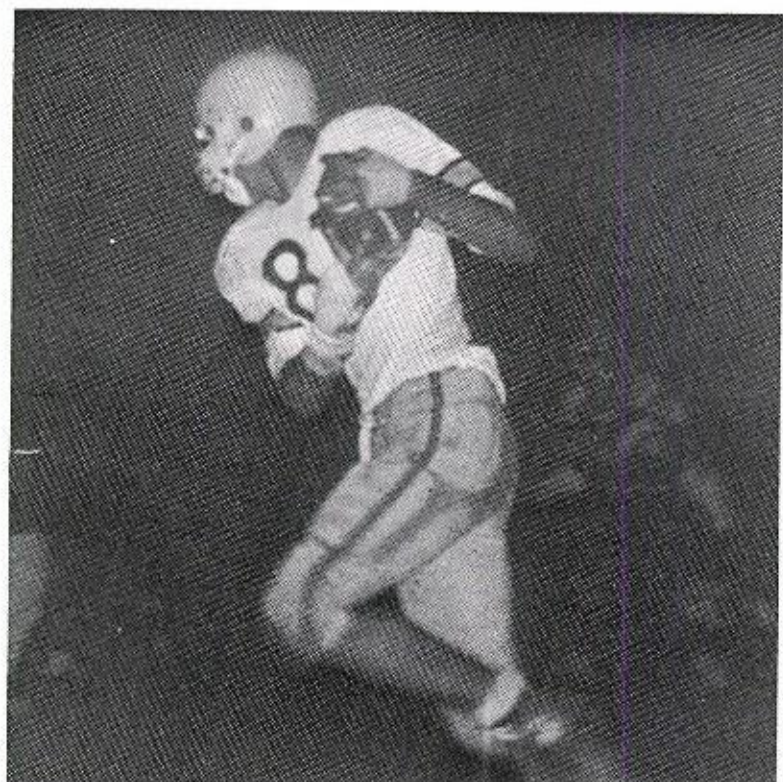

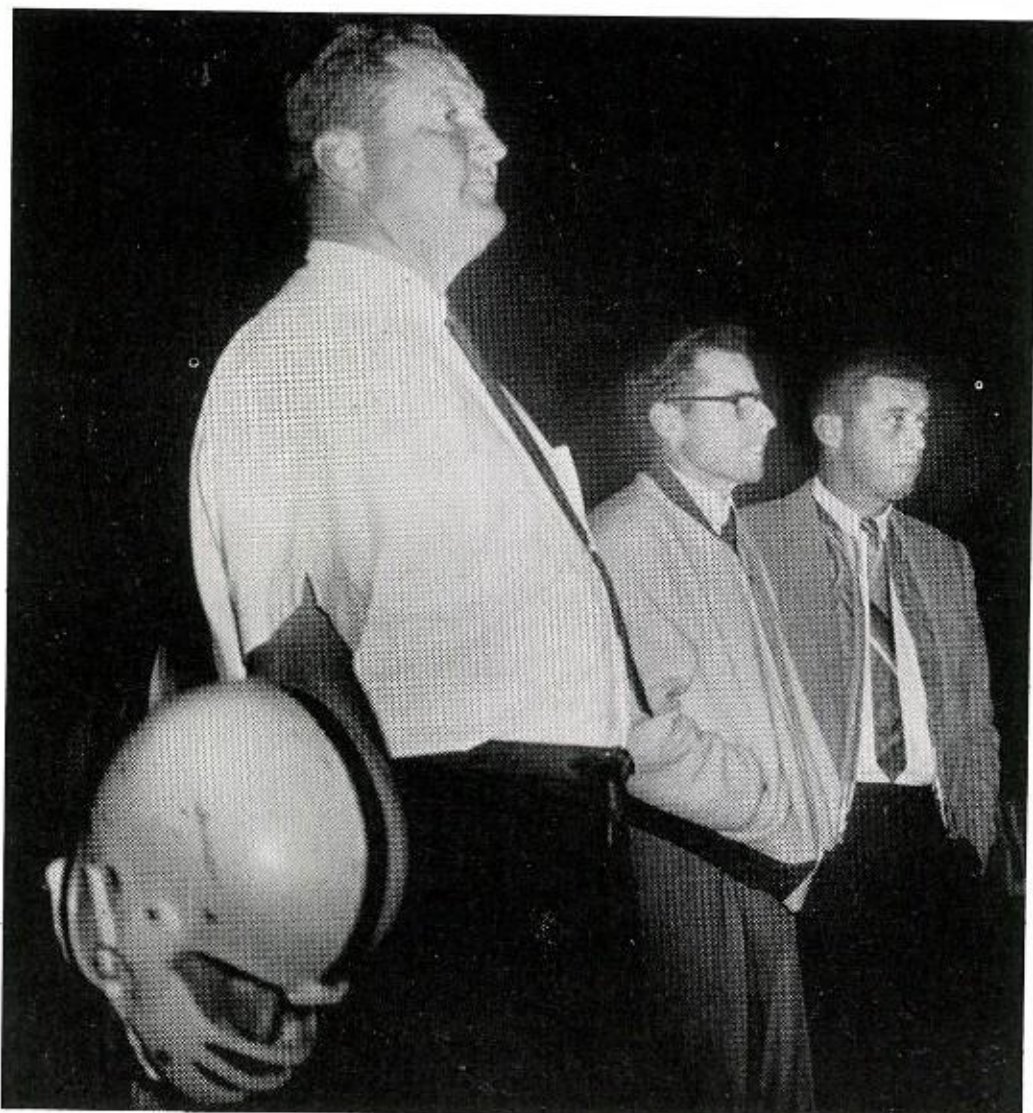

Halfback Jim Marum almost doubled his passing yardage from the previous games. He connected nine out of fourteen tries to give the Lancers 176 yards of passing.

Jim Marum (23) hugs the ball close and runs one out against the Panthers.

Bob Steffen (28) leads Gary Wilhelmy (20) on a jaunt around end.

After snagging a pass, Bill Wanago breaks into the open.

In Sunnyside's first AA game, they came through to upset the Lancers in a hard-hitting battle. Sunnyside scored in the first quarter on a run and gained the extra point; neither team scored again until the halftime. In the third period the Blue Devils again scored on a 22 yard run: Wanago scored the only TD for Salpointe.

Oct. 26	RINCON
Rincon	0	0	14	0—14
Salpointe	0	0	0	7—7

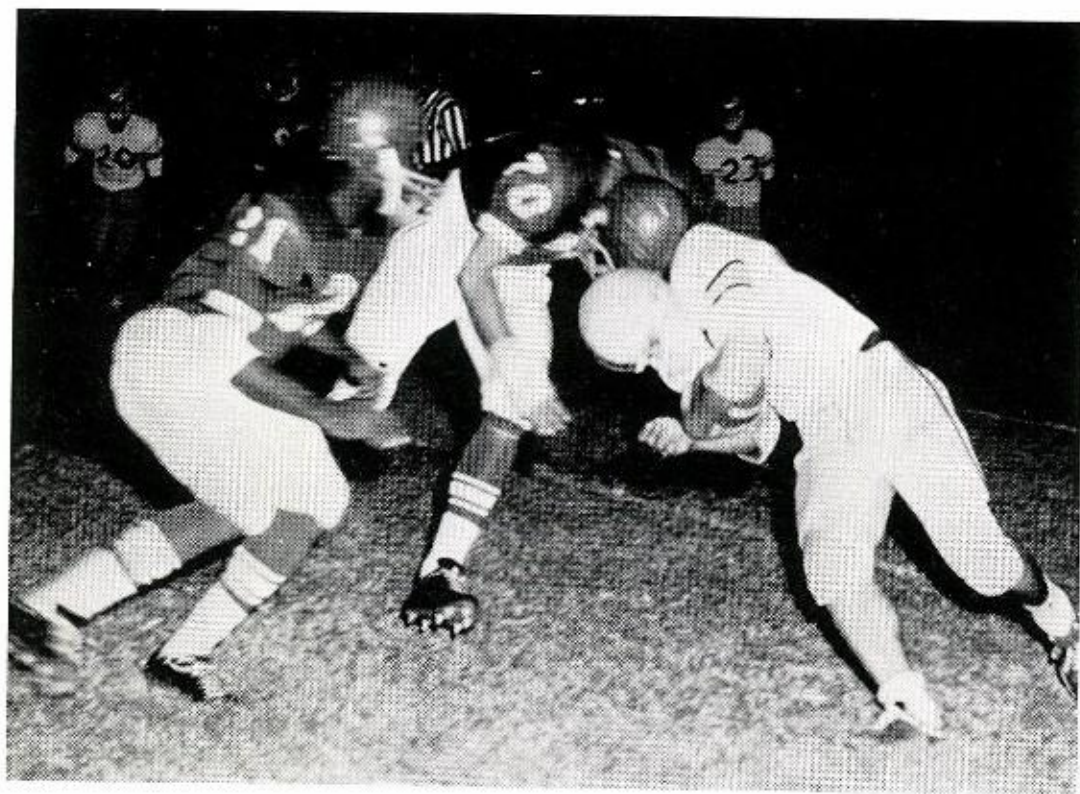

The Rangers fought hard to keep Salpointe from scoring during the first half of the contest for 4-AA second place. In the third period, Rincon's good fortune continued to give them a 14-0 lead over the Lancers. Salpointe's lone score came in the final quarter with Hufnagel charging from the one yard line.

Wayne Hufnagel (40), finding an open field, sweeps around left end.

Sticky-fingered Bill Wanago (81) snags yet another pass in the battle against the Tucson Badgers.

At each game of the season, Stan Cheske, graduate of '58 could be seen shooting many feet of film of Salpointe's team in action. Coach McCarter in subsequent classes used this valuable aid to instruct his team.

In a high-key contest, Salpointe followed the example of previous teams that had played Tucson and bowed to Tucson to a score of 34-6. The Lancers received the initial kick, and after a series of plays, Marum hit a pass to Wanago for the first TD, but the eager Badger soon scored to tie at the first quarter. Before the half, Tucson scored again putting themselves ahead at the intermission, 13-6.

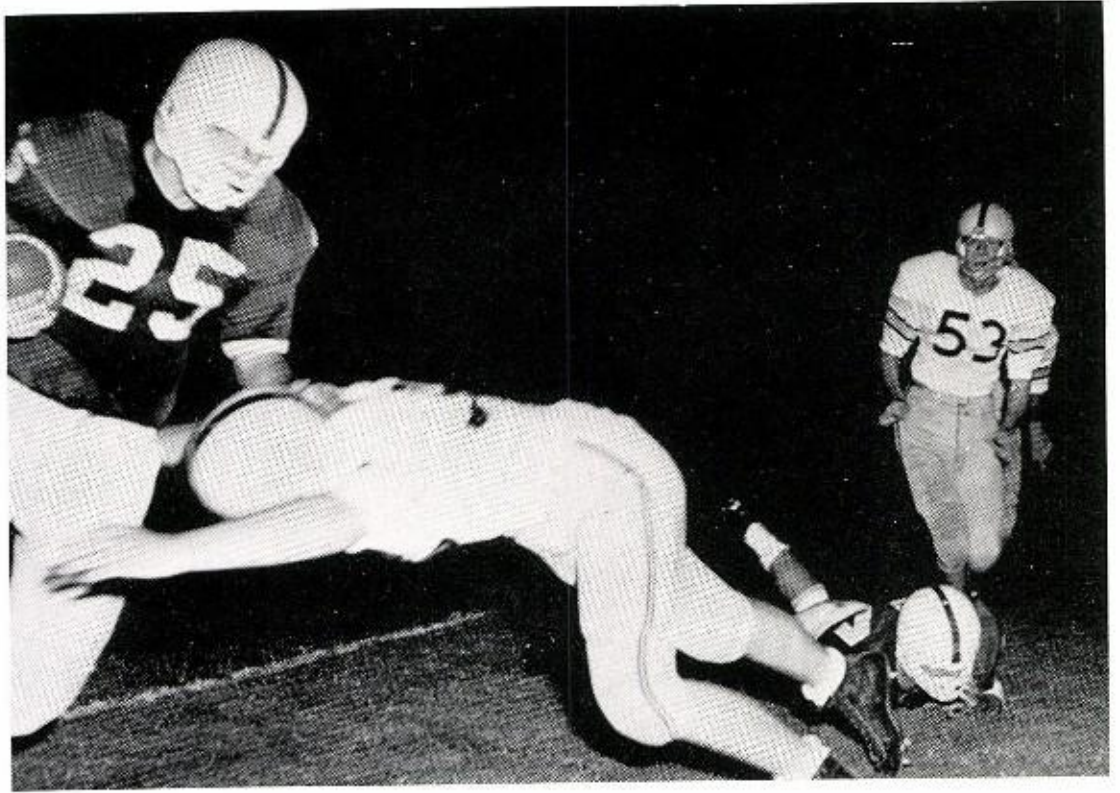

After halftime it was Tucson's game. They scored once in the third period and twice in the final quarter to cop the division 4-AA championship.

In the second quarter the Trojans scored. The extra point was good and Catalina was ahead, 7-6 at the half-time.

A pass from Marum to Donnelly effected another Lancer TD in the third quarter to put Salpointe once again in front. With three minutes left to play, Salpointe recovered a fumble on the Catalina twenty; Hufnagel ended the scoring with another one yard plunge.

PUEBLO

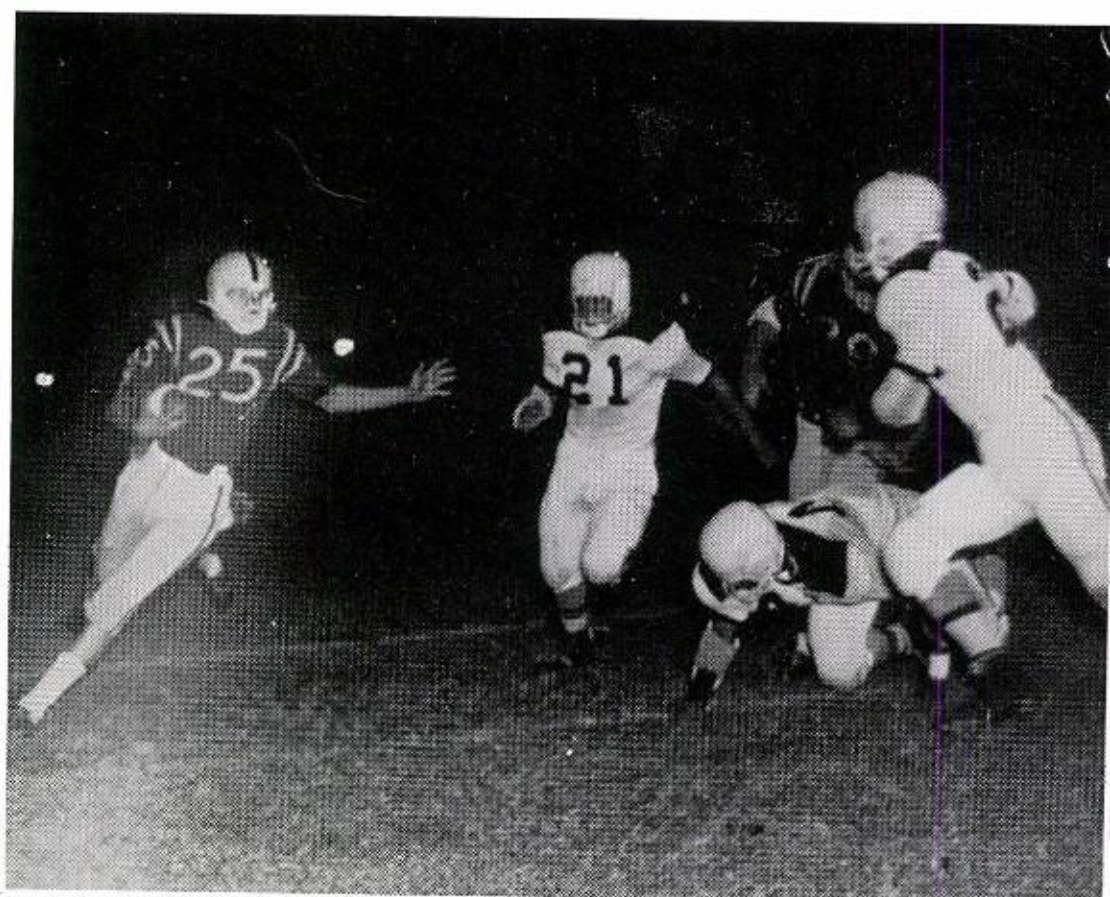

Pueblo	0	0	7	6—13
Salpointe	14	0	0	0—14

In a game full of gambles, Salpointe edged the Pueblo Warriors out of victory by 14-13. The Lancers scored twice in the first quarter; once with the teaming of Wanago and Marum, and again with a nineteen yard sprint by Wilhelmy. Lares kicked the extra points for both TDs.

The Warriors scored twice in the second half, once gaining the extra point to come close to tying Salpointe. In final attempts Pueblo threatened to score again, but was stopped short by the Lancer line just before time ran out.

With a new coach, Jack Holly, at the helm the Varsity basketball squad compiled a disappointing record of 3-15. The inexperience of the Lancers showed throughout the season, but they always maintained the fighting spirit for which Salpointe is known.

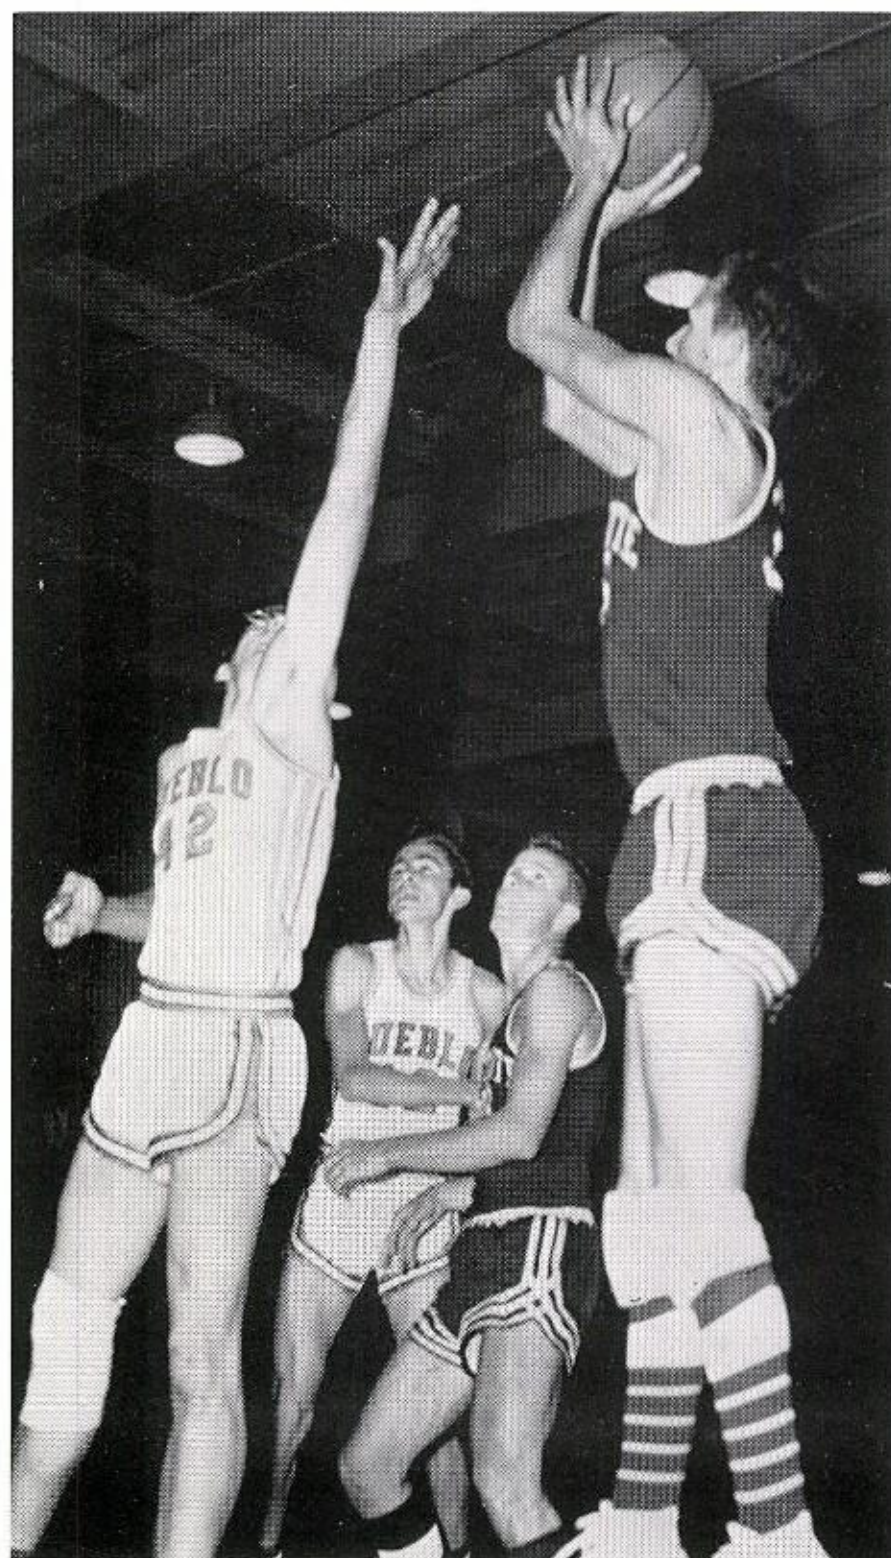

The opening game of the 1962-63 season saw Salpointe fall to their annual foe, Amphi. The Lancers led for the first three quarters, but the taller Panthers took charge in the final quarter and came out with a 55-35 victory.

The next two games Salpointe lost to Brophy and powerful Tucson High.

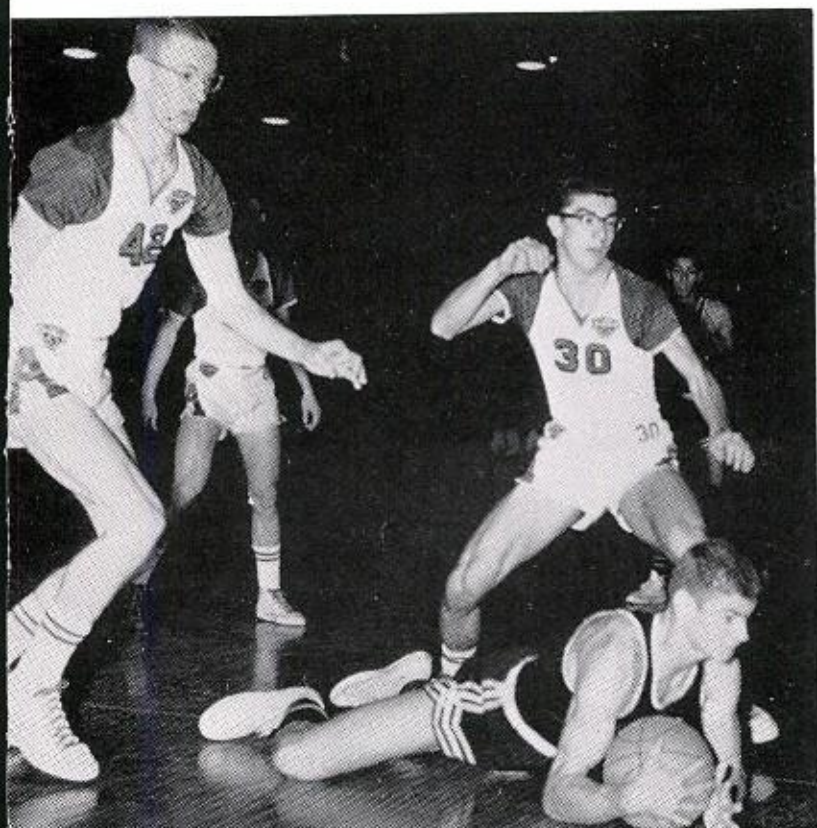

Palo Verde, the newest AA-4 school, became the first victory for the Lancers as they squeezed out a 43-37 win behind the scoring of Bob Cunningham and Frank Murray with 12 and 8 points respectively.

Again the round ballers went on a two game losing streak as Sunnyside and St. Mary toppled the Lancers. Sunnyside used a quick fast break to defeat Salpointe on its own court 61-42.

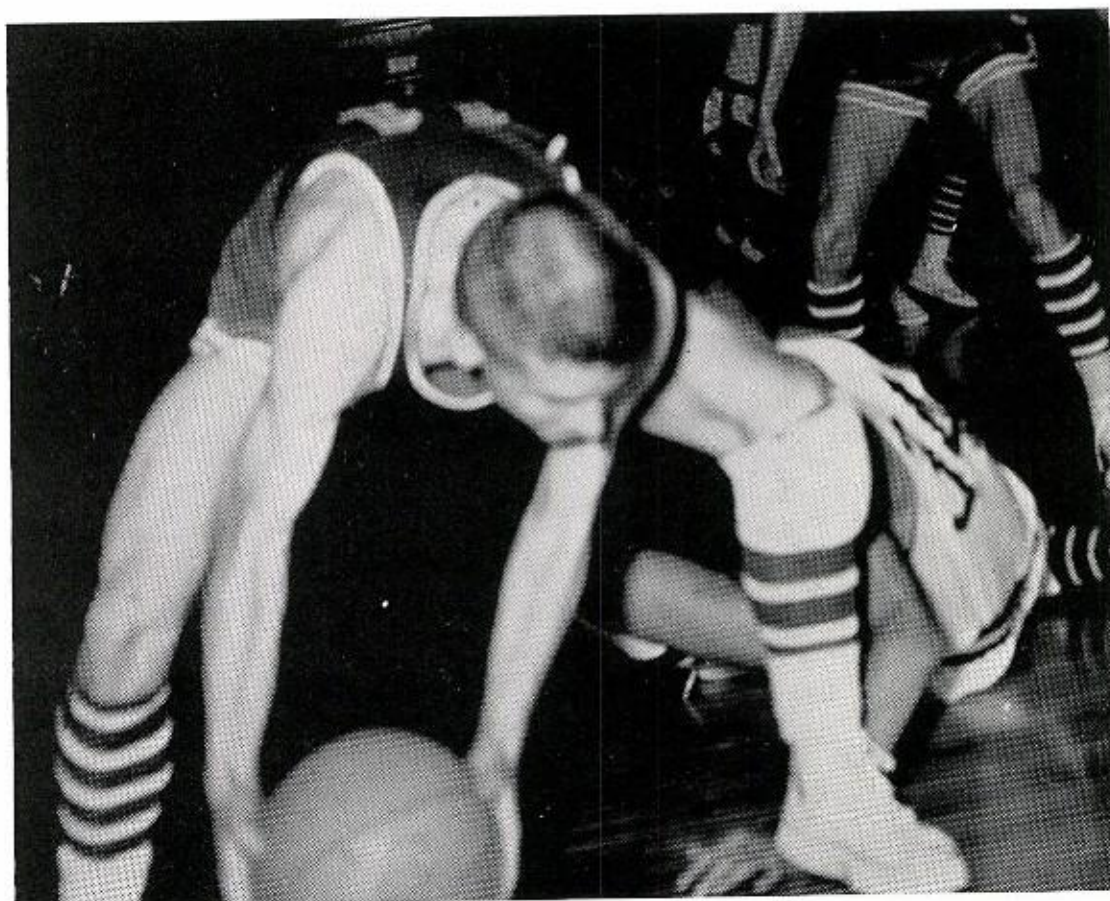

It was Pueblo who offered Salpointe its second win of the season. The southsiders pushed the Lancers into an overtime, but Bob Avila and Jack Michela hit for 14 and 10 points to lead to victory.

The Lancers then suffered the longest losing streak of the season, losing to Catalina, Rincon, Amphi, Tucson, Douglas, Palo Verde, and Sunnyside. At Palo Verde the Titans pulled out a 51-44 win, but not before Bob Cunningham poured in 22 points.

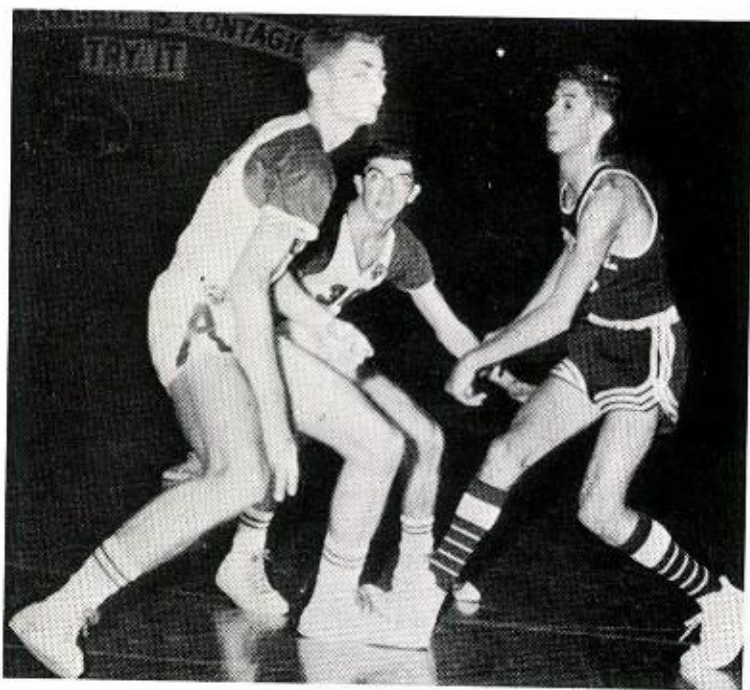

Pueblo suffered its 14th straight loss of the season when it met Salpointe in the Lancer gym. Bob Avila's 28 points proved to be the margin of victory in the Lan-

In the last two games Salpointe met State-tournament-bound Catalina and Rincon. The Lancers could do nothing against the superior Trojans and Rangers as they were handed a 36-21 loss by Catalina and a 63-32 loss by Rincon.

Cross Country

The varsity cross country team has been showing outstanding performance. With Coach Holley in charge it compiled a creditable record.

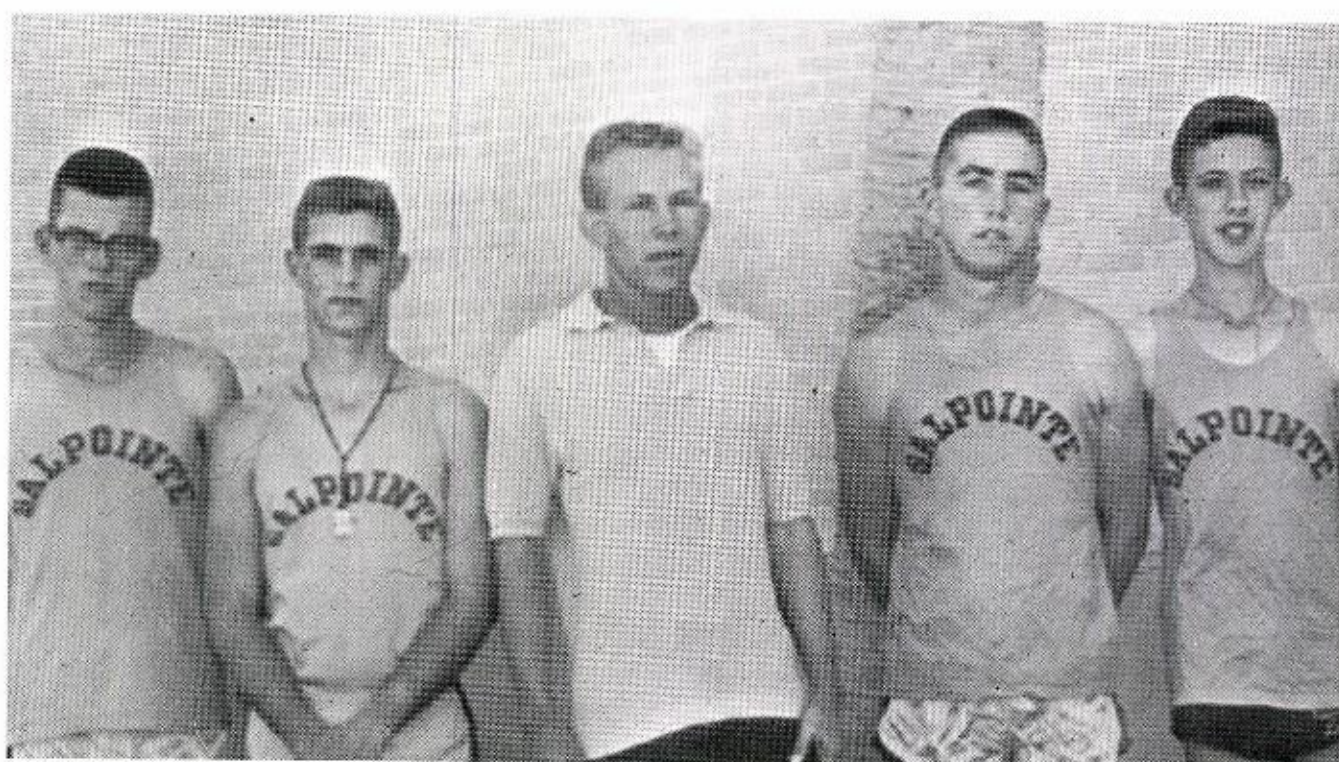

Charles Brackney, John Roll, and Kevin McBride, lettermen this year, increased the team's standing by their continuous hard work. Brackney took a first place against the state champion Rincon. Roll and McBride captured second and third places throughout the season.

Receiving letters this year for their endurance were Bill Westhafer, Larry Leber, Jack Michela, Bob Cunningham, Joe Sweeney, Bobby Avila, and Al Millbrandt. Paul Bourret and Miles Nuzum earned letters as managers.

Charles Brackney received the cross country trophy for outstanding runner of the season.

Frosh Track Team

A lack of adequate track facilities is one of the major hurdles Coach Lucz's track team has to compete against each season. Despite this and the loss of Gary Wilhelmy, top contender for the sprint records, hard work has assisted the Lancers in giving a good account of themselves.

Bill Huser, holder of the school's shot put record, along with Bob Stephen in the discus assured the team of points in each meet. Raul Ramirez in the broad jump and pole valuter Ed Felix, greatly boosted the field event point totals.

Sprinters Jim Rohen and Dennis Donelly were backed up by Charley Gallegos and Jim Rudolph in the high and low hurdles, with Rudolph trying to win a place in the school record books.

The distance men were led by Jim Strickland and soph Charles Brackney, while Martin, Gross, and Rhome pushed them hard the entire season.

The graduation of six seniors, Rudolph, Ramirez, Felix, Huser, Stephen, and Donelly, will be a great loss, for they have been the backbone of the track team each season.

Baseball

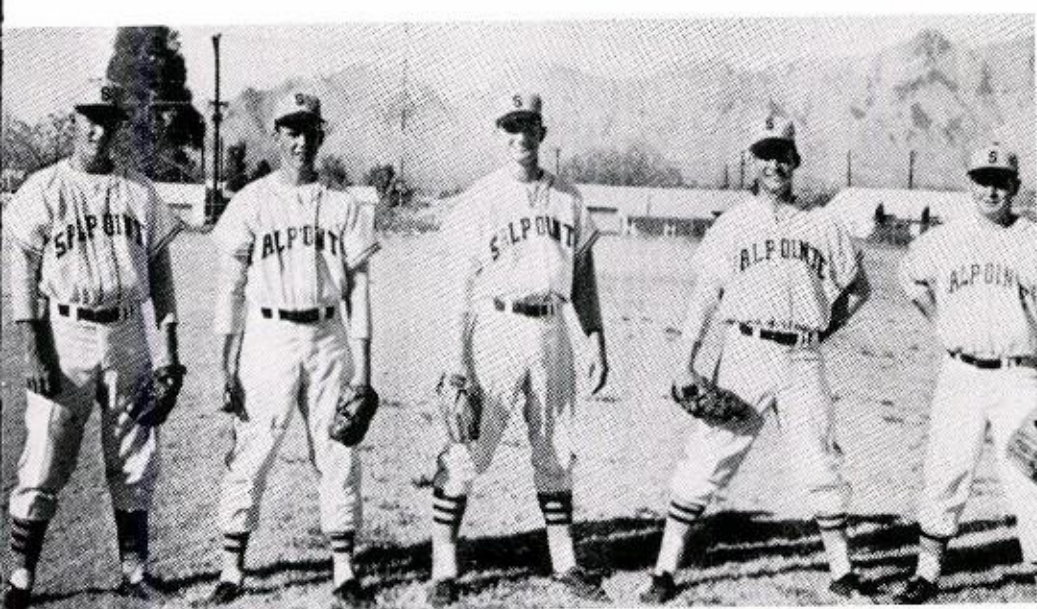

The 1963 baseball team at Salpointe is gunning to improve its 9-6 record of last year, placing them second in the city. This year's squad has more than a dozen lettermen returning, including the entire pitching staff of '62. Pitching should be exceptionally strong with the return of All City Pat O'Leary, 6', 175 lb. senior southpaw, and Felipe "Bear" Galaz, 6', 200 lb. senior righthander. O'Leary with a 5-3 record with 68 strikeouts in 54 innings, will be real tough if he continues to improve his control. Along with O'Leary and Galaz, we have transfer Ed McLaughlin and junior Larry Brazaskas to round out the strongest pitching staff Salpointe ever had.

When these mound-men are through mowing down the opposing batters, Salpointe's offense comes to bat. "Murderer's row," as it will be called, consists of: leadoff man, Joe "Dead Man" Sweeney—second base; Ed Gastellum—third base; Bobby "T" Tomasso—short stop; clean-up man Pat O'Leary—pitcher; Bill "Twitch" Wanago—first base; Jim Marum—center fielder; Jack Michela—center fielder; George Brancheau—right fielder; and either Peter Sanchez or Don Crocker—catching.

Because of the early deadline of the Horizons we are not able to cover the season's games.

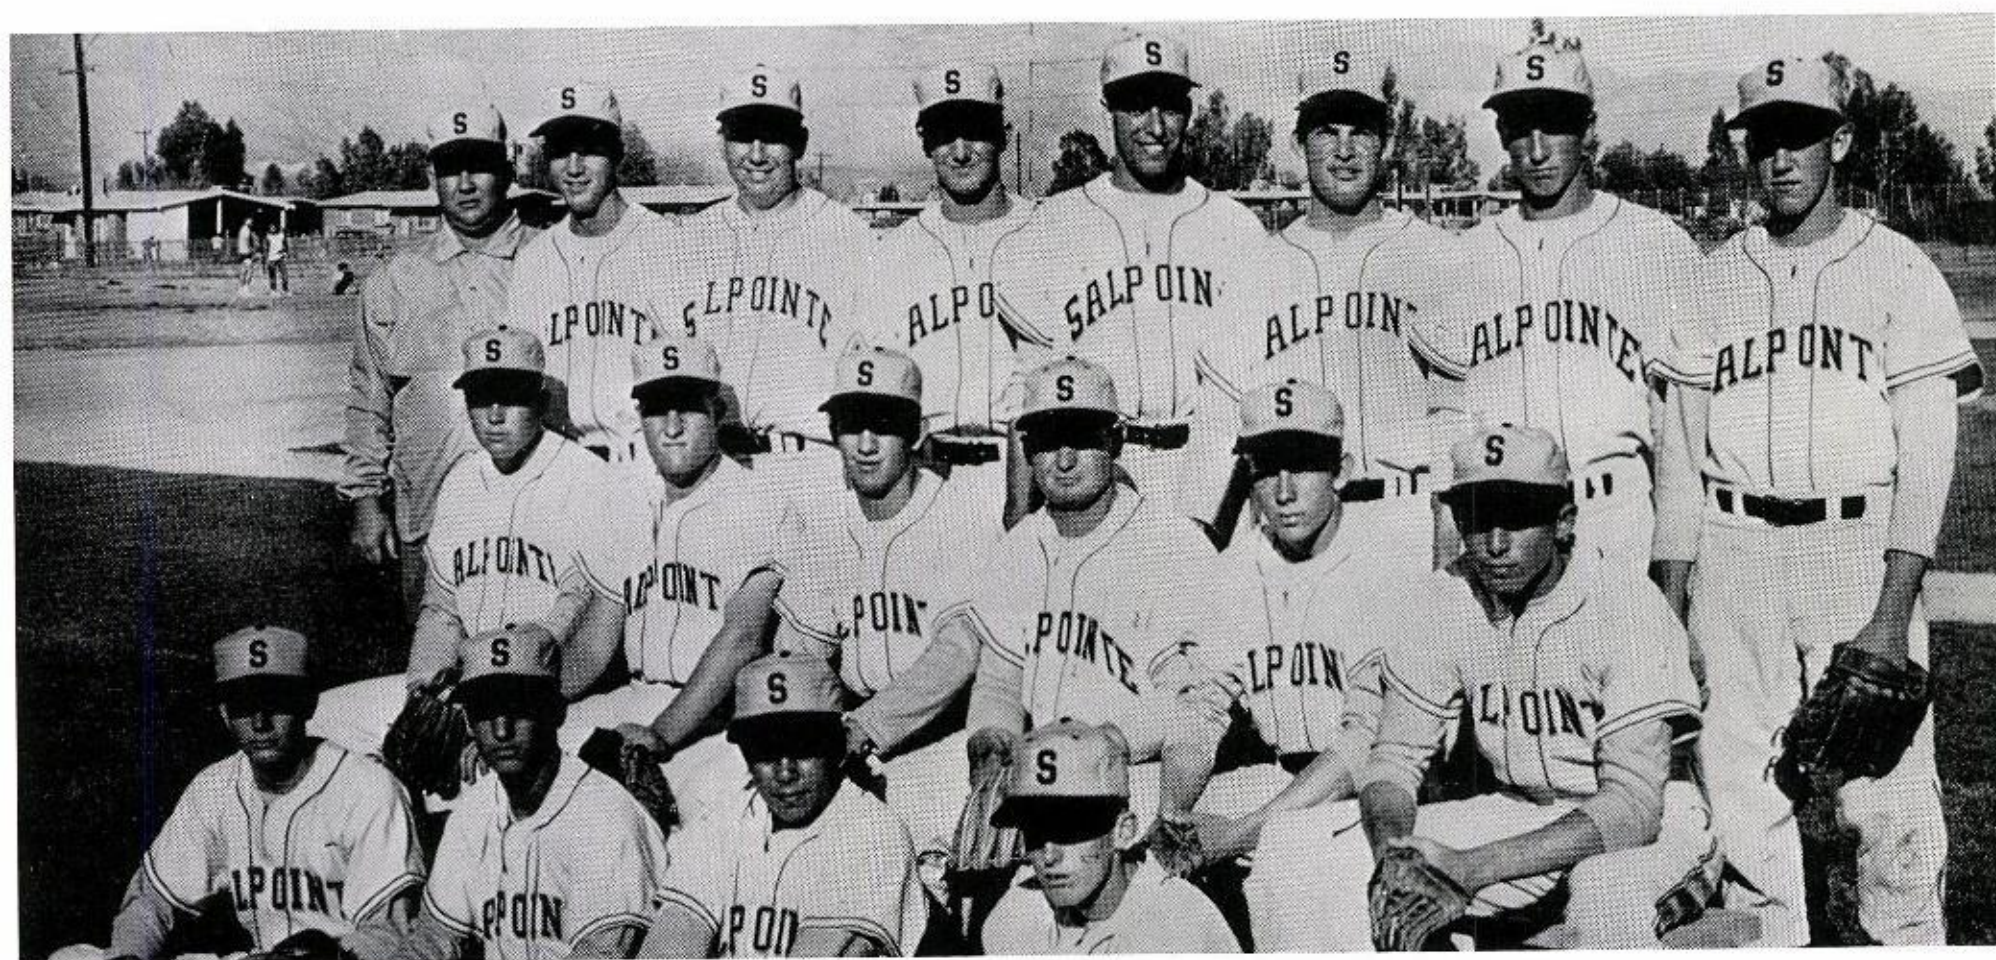

Pat O'Leary will head the mound along with Felipe Galaz (not pictured).

These outfielders will be expected to handle the chores during this year's season.

Bill Wanago has the job of handling first base this season.

Wrestling

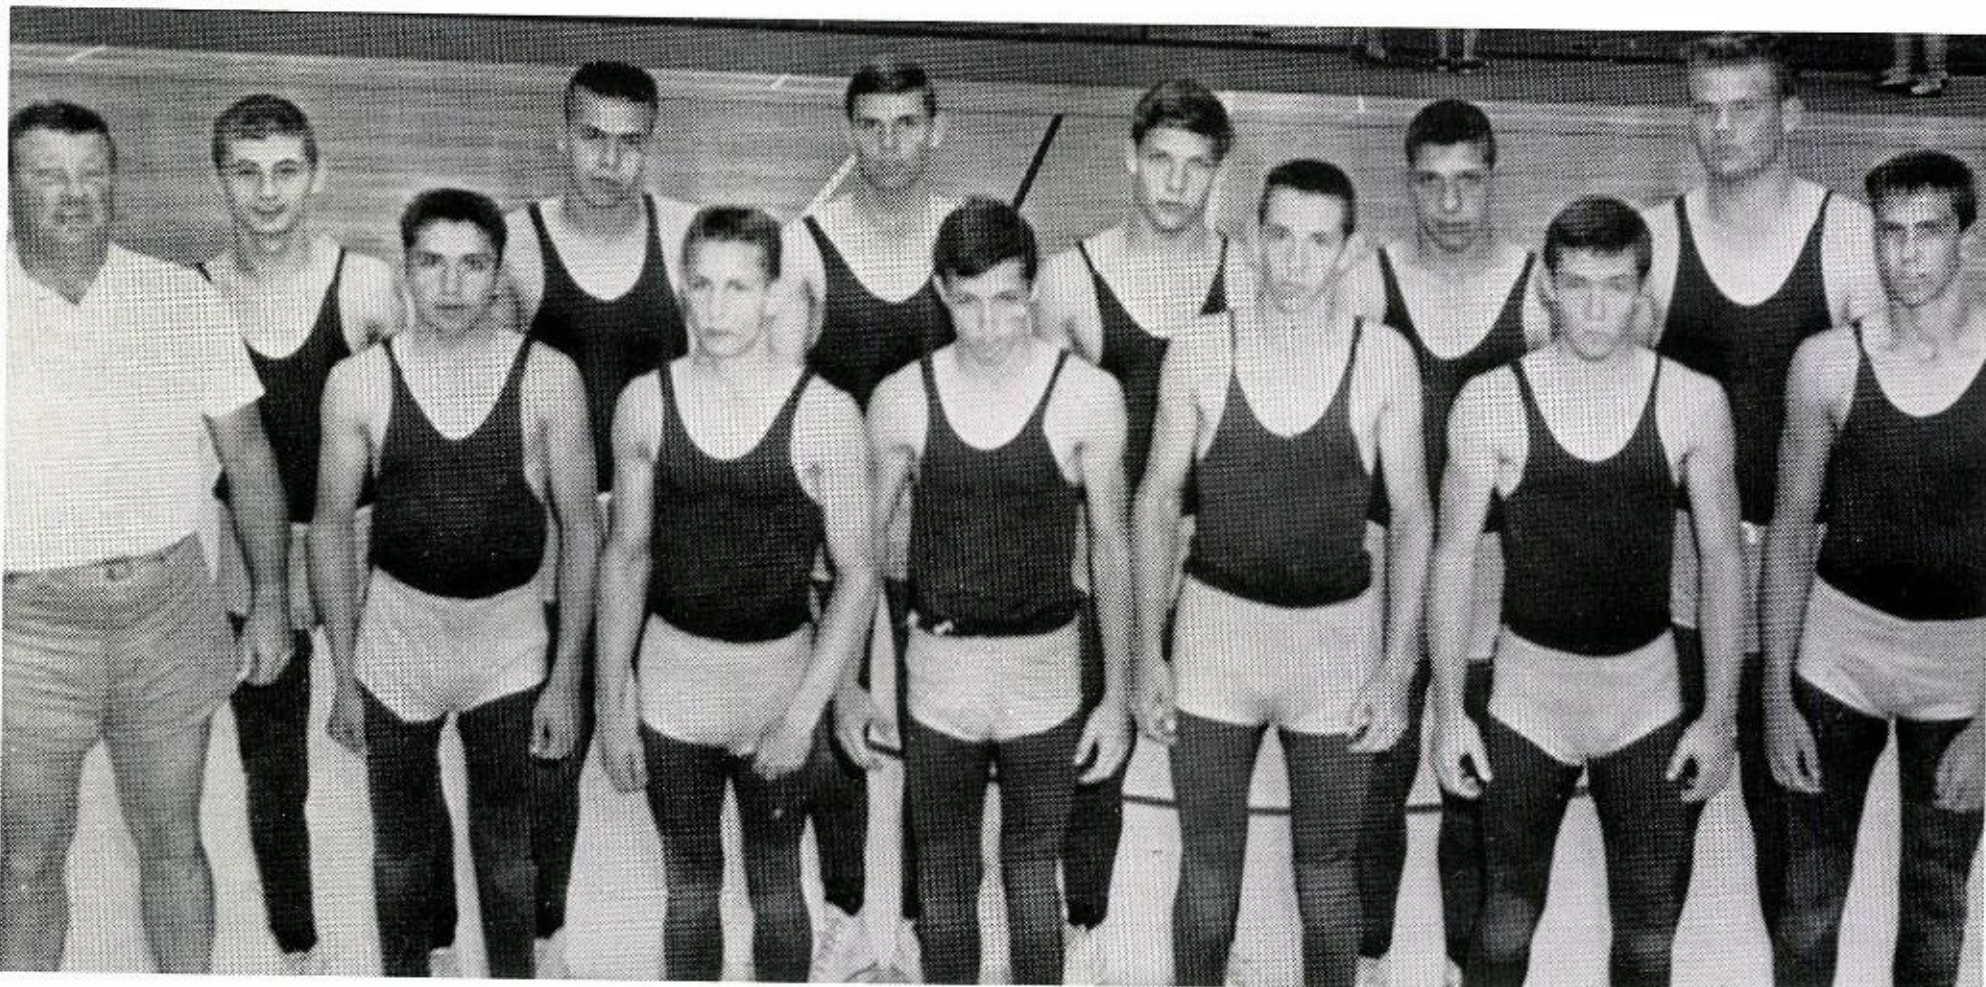

With the initiation of wrestling last year it is rapidly becoming one of the top spectator-participation sports at Salpointe.

One of the outstanding varsity wrestlers this year was Bob Lancaster who entered the Region 4-AA qualifying tournament undefeated. The wrestling tourney was hosted by Salpointe, Feb. 15 and 16. Bob was victorious in the semi-finals but was defeated in the finals. Dick Knauff and Steve Stangle were defeated in the semi-finals Friday.

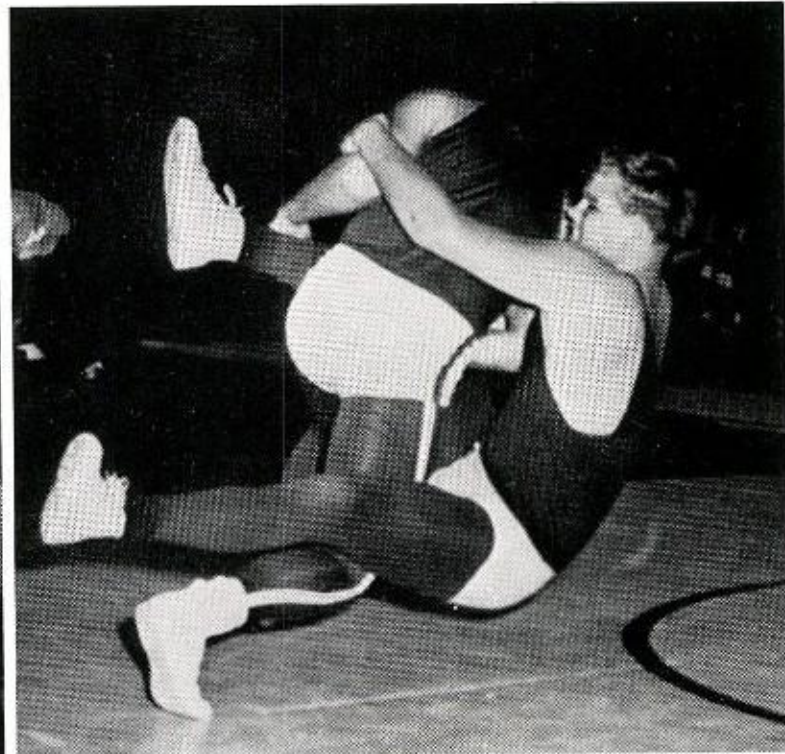

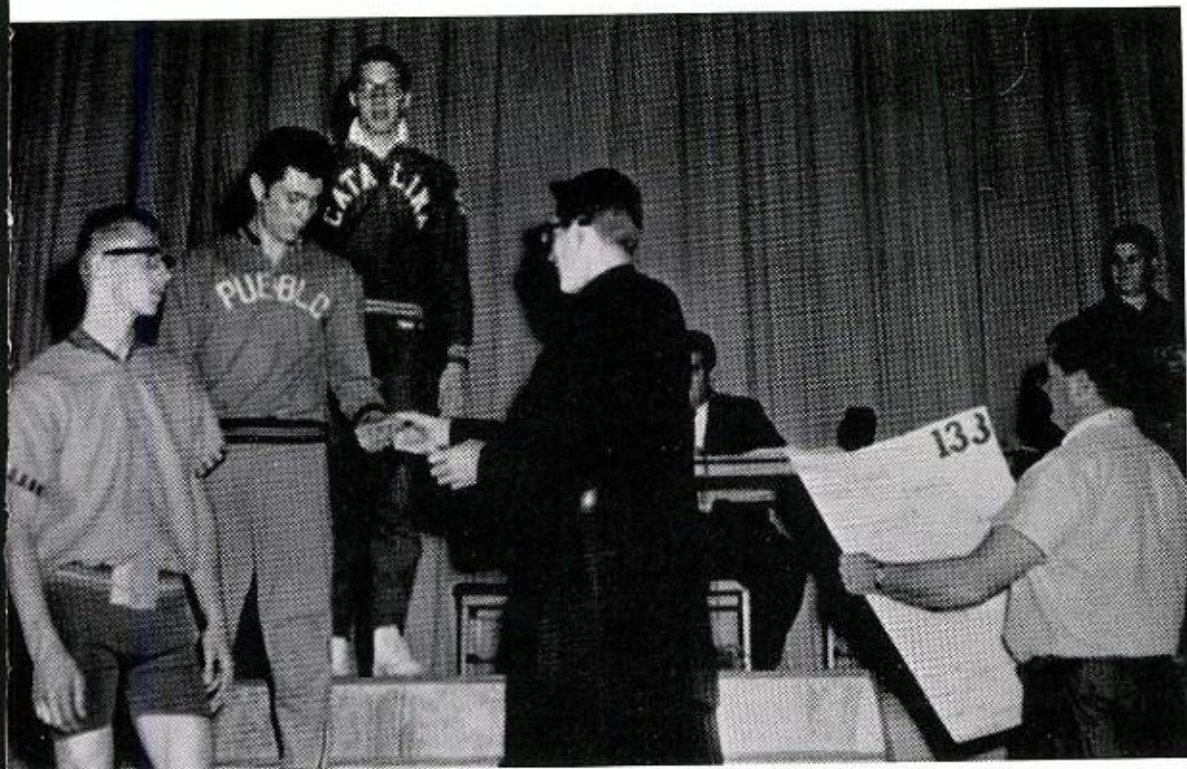

This sport is exploding into the major program here that it has already attained around the city. Participating wrestlers are eligible for a major letter in the competition.

STUDENTS

Size and shape determine very little at Salpointe. Students come in various makes and models. Smallness is not necessarily the mark of a freshman, nor is largeness always the sign of an upperclassman. The true size of an individual is determined by what motivates him to do what he does. By this only he grows and matures.

During the first days of school, hundreds of frosh scurried here and there looking for classrooms and lockers. At first Tirips would not dare to follow any freshman for fear of being lost in the scuffle. As the year progressed he began to see the freshman orientate and take on a role of high school life.

Sophomores Follow Enthusiastic Officers

Look for the loudest cheers and the greatest spirit and you will find the sophomore class. These "wise fools" have already shown the capability of making fine upperclassmen. Active in all phases of school life they participate in drives, which is evident from their second straight victory during the chocolate drive and their second place triumph during the Insect-A-Sell.

The class of '66 has also manifested their scholastic ability by the numbers attaining membership in the N.H.S. and number of students making the honor roll. President Taft Jacob and Delegate Dede Wild have kept the sophomores active with the typical Salpointe spirit.

Juniors Prepare For Seniors' Responsibilities

Assuming the title of upperclassmen for the first time, the class of '64 has the potential to make a fine senior class. Led by President Frank Blazek and delegate Margot Brown the juniors exhibited their loyalty and devotion to their class and school by their Prom preparations, participation in the chocolate drive and in the junior class car wash.

Halls of learning provide a meeting place after school.

A group of tired but happy seniors head for home after a trip to Mt. Lemmon during a school holiday.

Various activities combine to make the senior year the most fun. Senior day, Prom, and graduation preparations are joyfully anticipated by each senior but not without a tinge of sadness aroused by the thought of leaving the halls of his Alma Mater. The sum of all the fun experienced in his last year form long-lasting memories.

Seniors do the twist at the Christmas Dance.

Bill Hearon suggests "Words Worth Reading" to Deanna Dauphinais.

A very exciting moment in the life of a senior is the day he is measured for his cap and gown. He now realizes that graduation is close at hand and in a few short months he will be out in the world on his own.

Jamie Blake stands tall and straight for correct measurement for her graduation gown.

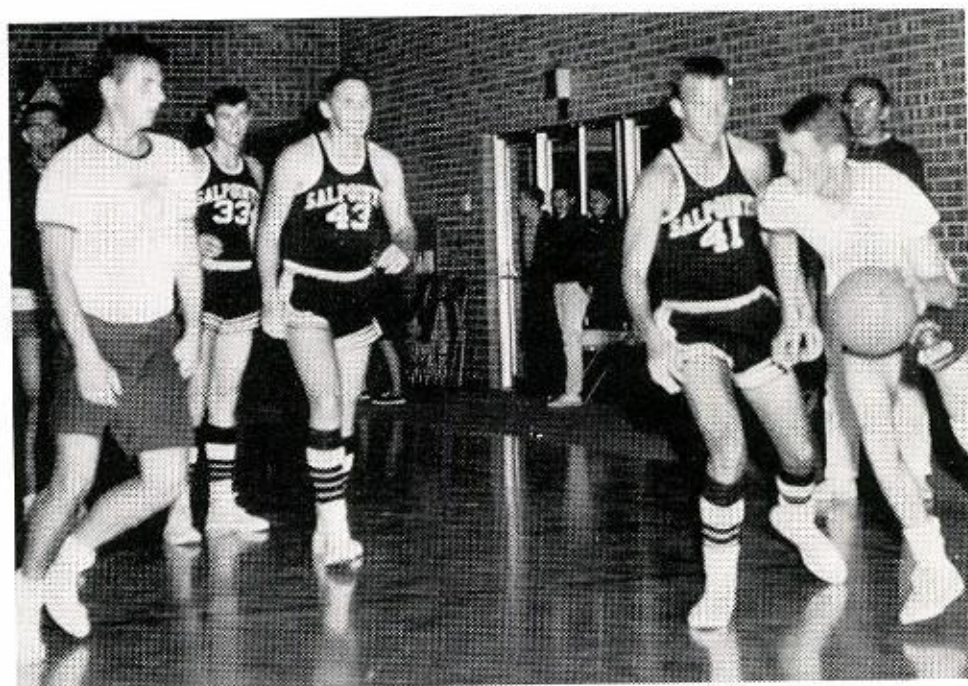

"Hope my head doesn't grow anymore" smiles Henry Kaldenbaugh as he is measured for his graduation cap.

The varsity team slipped by the senior boys in a benefit basketball game played in our gymnasium last February.

The Big Five, cheered on by the Varsity cheerleaders, charged ahead in the second half to clinch the game. The senior boys, rooted for by a group of self-appointed senior girls, put up a good but unsuccessful battle. The proceeds of the game went to the library fund.

During Senior-Varsity game, Ed McLaughlin of the varsity, blocks Bill Hearon's play.

Tirips from Planet X-63.

"Now, Tirips, we ask you! What are Salpointers?"

"What is Salpointe? Well, it's not just cement blocks, nor bricks, nor tiles, but it is an institution which upholds and furthers Christian ideals. Salpointers are living vibrant teenagers, guided, marshaled, disciplined, and encouraged by zealous priests, brothers, sisters, and lay teachers.

"And why is there a Salpointe?"

"Because Salpointe offers the best means of striving to attain your goals; you want to be valiant, vital Christians now and glorified hereafter. I have no doubt that someday you will travel farther than Glenn, Carpenter, or Schirra. Perhaps, you will come to see me on the planet X-63!"

Mandy: (my best friend)
 This is a little late for writing in the year book. (July 20, 1963). Oh & when you move to Cal. you'll have to come & visit me. OK. Have fun at Palo V. &
 you come visit Salpointe some times OK.

New York-Born Elizabeth Seton

To Be Beatified In Rome

Christine Mojecz contributed her portrait of Blessed Elizabeth Seton to the Casa Elizabeth Seton, Tucson.

Consequently disowned by relatives and friends, Elizabeth struggled to provide for her children. An invitation from Bishop John Carroll called her to Baltimore where she opened a school for girls and founded the first American sisterhood. A growing enrollment and an increase in followers necessitated a move to Emmitsburg, Maryland, in 1809.

Brief were her years among us—she was only forty-six years and five months old when she died,

As the final deadline for the Horizons nears, word from Rome to the seven motherhouses of the seven branches of the American Sisters of Charity proclaim the joyous news that Elizabeth Ann Seton will be beatified in Rome on March 17, 1963.

Born of Episcopalian parents in New York, Aug. 28, 1774, Elizabeth Bayley grew up during the turbulent years of our country's beginning. After the death of her mother, Betty enjoyed material advantages, but the love for which she thirsted was lacking. This, however, did not prevent her from giving her love to others.

On January 25, 1794, she married handsome, wealthy William Magee Seton, of one of New York's "first families." Blessed with five children, the Setons looked forward to many years together. But suffering was never far from Elizabeth Seton.

Both the fortune and the health of William Seton failed. A voyage to Italy prescribed for his health was fruitless. William died in Pisa, Italy, in 1803, leaving his young widow penniless. During her brief sojourn there Elizabeth saw the Catholic faith lived vigorously in the lives of the Filicchis. Returning home, she resolved to become a Catholic.

January 4, 1821. "Americans . . . should be of this jewel in the very center of their crown . . . she belonged wholeheartedly to America and wholeheartedly to God."

Declared Venerable on December 18, 1959, Elizabeth Seton challenges her fellow Americans to aspire to a like sanctity amid the rush and tensions of their lives today as she accomplished in the busyness and tensions of the 1800s.

I met you as a stranger
I loved you as a friend
I hope we meet in heaven
where friendship never ends.

Your friend always Steve

Linda,
It's really been fun knowing you especially during your ins and outs with Chuck. Have a marvelous summer and I'll see ya next year. Loads of love and luck,
Yours,
